Big Crowd Sees Chester Parade

The spotlight was focused on Chester Friday night when a crowd estimated at 15,000 watched 60 units move along Carolina Ave. during the annual Chester volunteer firemen's parade.

Outstanding marching groups, featured by the non-competing Golden Triangles of Swissvale, featured the long line of march.

The weeklong celebration will end today, with rides open this afternoon and tonight.

Prizes were awarded in five categories for the parade, with trophies presented to fire departments from Industry, Minerva, Wellsville, West Mayfield, Monaca and Large, Pa.

The Anchorettes of West Braddock, Pa., won first place among the senior marching groups. The Jack and Jills of Penn Hills placed second, the Hill and Jills and Gents of Pittsburgh third and the Vi-Lar Kadettes of East Liverpool fourth.

The Jack and Jills of Penn Hills won first place among the junior marching groups, with the Rangerettes of Pittsburgh second, the Uniters of Plum Borough third and Hills and Jills and Gents fourth.

The young Painesville Cavaliers were judged the best drill and color guard unit, while the Fort McIntosh Indians won the novelty prize.

Judges included Mrs. Alyce Ann McDevitt of Chester, Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne of East Liverpool and fire chief Earl Flesch of Newell.

Mayor Harold Ash served as parade marshal.

Aid Measure Bogged Down In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, with its disputes still unsettled on foreign aid, firearms and Abe Fortas, has taken a month-long pause to prepare for the fight at the polls this fall.

Lawmakers failed Friday in an all-out push to finish work on a foreign aid package before halting for the national political conventions. The Senate and the House recessed until Sept. 4, two days after Labor Day.

In a final flurry of action, Congress sent the White House a broader poultry inspection program and a flock of lesser measures. But the foreign aid bill, already fixed roughly at $1 billion below what President Johnson wants, became bogged down in a minor argument over log exports.

Lawmakers are divided over how long Congress will stay in session when it comes back in September to face a threatened filibuster over Johnson's choice of Fortas as chief justice at a time when politicians feel the tug to return to the campaign trail.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said it might be impossible to wind up before Christmas. But many members, particularly those facing tough re-election fights, say they are determined to get home by the first of October.

The Senate also faces a potentially fierce battle over efforts to strengthen a bill to ban mail sales of rifles and shotguns.

Other leftover problems include the $72-billion Pentagon appropriations bill which pays for the war in Vietnam, ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, and a $14-billion omnibus education measure.

Downdraft Blamed In Jetliner's Crash

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A violent downdraft is believed to have caused the crash of an Alitalia Airlines DC-8 jetliner that went down in driving rain and thick fog Friday night with 95 persons aboard.

Twelve persons were killed and one was missing among those on the plane bound from Rome to Montreal with a stop-over in Milan.

The big jet crashed into a pine-covered hillside six miles short of the runway at Milan's Malpensa Airport and burst into flames. Many survivors escaped through cracks in the fuselage.

Fresh Quake Hits Manila; Toll To Rise

MANILA (AP) — Fresh tremors shook Manila today only 39 hours after Friday's predawn quake that collapsed an apartment building and killed at least 83 persons. The toll was expected to rise.

There were no immediate reports of damage or injury from the new tremor that registered four and five on a scale of nine. The Manila Weather Bureau measured the Friday quake at six.

Meanwhile rescue workers continued their sifting hand-to-hand through the rubble to find at least 250 persons still believed trapped in the wreckage of the five-story apartment house. Occasional cries could still be heard.

Some officials have estimated the death toll will rise as high as 200. In addition to the dead, 251 injured had been removed.

Gen. Enrique Morales, Manila police chief, said he estimated 10 to 15 per cent of the trapped victims would survive if rescuers could reach them today.

It was expected the rescue operations would not be completed before Sunday.

Eight giant cranes were brought into the rescue operation to help dig at the towering pile of wreckage.

Mayor Clyde B. Pike, who kept a young couple waiting 90 minutes April 19 while trying to determine the proper language with which to unite them in marriage, said his second ceremony Friday evening went "real smooth."

Gov. Rhodes May 'Free' Ohio Votes

Indicates He Might Drop His Candidacy As 'Favorite Son'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes indicated Friday night he might drop his favorite son candidacy and release Ohio's 58 Republican presidential nominating votes if the state delegation expresses overwhelming support for one candidate.

The Ohio governor refused to say whether he favors Nelson A. Rockefeller or Richard M. Nixon for the nomination, but said he might deliver a personal recommendation to his delegates before balloting begins Wednesday night.

Caucus Set Monday

The Ohio delegation caucuses Monday. Rhodes said he might decide then whether to remain uncommitted behind his favorite son banner or switch to one of the declared presidential candidates.

"If it's overwhelming for one candidate, in all probability that candidate will get the votes," Rhodes said. "I do not know what direction they will take as a delegation."

The governor, speaking at a news conference, clearly relished his role as a leader of a possible crucial delegation to the Republican National Convention, which opens Monday.

He said he expects to be seeing "more people of importance," including the candidates, than will most Republicans assembled in the tropical convention city.

Supporters and strategists of the Nixon and Rockefeller camps were on hand for Rhodes' convention entrance.

Rhodes doesn't budge. But the governor did not budge from the publicly neuded.

Three Freed U.S. Pilots Head Home

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Three American pilots released by the North Vietnamese prepared to return home today saying they had been well treated by their captors.

The three are scheduled to arrive Sunday at Kennedy International Airport in New York after commercial flights via Bangkok, the Middle East and Europe.

The three who arrived here Friday from Hanoi were Maj. James F. Low, 43, of Sausalito, Calif., a Korean war ace shot down by a missile Dec. 16, 1967; Maj. Fred Neale Thompson, 32, of Taylors, S.C., captured last March 20, and Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Calif., captured last Feb. 15.

On July 18 Hanoi announced the trio had been released. But they did not arrive here on the once-a-week International Control Commission plane until Friday.

Since their arrival, the airmen have been kept under tight security wraps by the U.S. Embassy.

They were outfitted by the embassy today with new clothes to replace the white shirts, slacks and sandals issued by the North Vietnamese.

The three sidestepped questions about their future conduct in relation to the war. Low, asked if he was against the war as a result of his experiences, said, "That's not my bailiwick."

He refused to discuss whether he would fly more missions over North Vietnam.

Negotiated Peace Is Snag

Republicans See Some Progress For Viet Plank

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republicans trying to find common ground on a Vietnam plank for their platform reported progress in informal discussions today.

The 102-member platform committee met in the early morning on domestic issues, achieving a large measure of agreement. But formal discussion of the sticky southeast Asia war issue was still hours away and prospects of finishing the campaign document today dimmed.

The main sticking point apparently is a draft phrase that "any negotiated peace will be unacceptable unless it assures the Vietnamese a full opportunity for self-determination."

Critics want the GOP to endorse freer scope for peace negotiations — but without abandoning a commitment to self-determination in Vietnam.

Some also object to treatment of Vietnam exclusively in the military section of the platform.

They think it should be handled under foreign relations, a position that would give more emphasis to negotiations and to political aspects of a solution.

However, Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York apparently was not picking up much support for his earlier statement that the party should commit itself to seeking peace at the earliest possible time and that the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, must at some point be brought into the negotiations.

The marathon session that continued after midnight produced some wrangles and parliamentary skirmishes, especially toward the end. But it achieved considerable agreement on a number of domestic issues among Republicans of widely varying social outlook.

The spirit of accommodation contrasted sharply with the 1964 campaign proceedings, when

Inside Shau Valley

U.S. B52s Blast Red Supply Area

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers pounded a major enemy supply area inside the A Shau Valley again today in an effort to stave off expected attacks against Da Nang and the old imperial capital of Hue.

In raids Friday and today, 30 of the big bombers rained an estimated 900 tons of explosives on targets inside the valley, the main enemy supply base in South Vietnam.

A Shau, which snakes 25 miles in length, paralleling the Laotian border, has been the major enemy supply zone since March, 1966. U.S. troops invaded the valley last spring and temporarily drove the enemy out, but after a month the U.S. troops withdrew, leaving the valley in enemy hands again.

In ground action, North Vietnamese troops, spraying tear gas, invaded a small U.S. Marine radio station overlooking the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base and killed six Americans and wounded 11 others.

Republicans To Convene On Monday

Nation Awaiting 'Face-Down' Of 2 Major Candidates

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The battle for the Republican presidential nomination is about to shift from arguments over polls and estimates of delegate strength to the personal impact of the two top contenders.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon are ready to present their individual credentials to the politicians and the impact they make could have more to do with the result than everything controversial that has gone before.

Nixon Rehabilitated?

Is Nixon who lost by an eyelash in 1960 to John F. Kennedy, sufficiently rehabilitated politically to be trusted with this year's nomination?

Or should the party pick Rockefeller, a sometime renegade, as its standardbearer in a topsy turvy year?

There is almost no serious thought among outsiders in this sweltering convention city that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California could wind up with the nomination.

While the nation awaited the two major candidates' face-down with something less than the excitement attendant to pro football, a great deal of not very effectual politicking was going on behind the scenes here.

Nixon supporters were putting on the pressure to get southern delegates to hold the line against any early ballot break toward Reagan.

In addition the Nixon people were trying to encourage a break away from favorite sons who were displaying a fresh determination to take a good look

Weirton Ends Segregation In Dancing

WEIRTON — City officials and the Weirton Park Board abandoned a segregation dancing policy at the Millsop Community Center and unanimously gave Anthony Torchio, city recreation director, a vote of confidence during a meeting held with members of the Weirton Human Rights Commission.

The meeting was called to review the racial disturbances which began late Wednesday night as a result of a policy of the park board prohibiting interracial dancing.

Approximately 200 Negro youths carried signs and sang as they marched in a quiet demonstration to the city building.

They continued their singing outside the building as city officials met. The meeting was closed to everyone except news media.

All Weirton policemen were on duty in case of a disturbance. Assisting were nine deputies from the Hancock County sheriff's office, on duty in Weirton from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. State troopers also were recalled to Weirton when the Negro youths marched on the city building.

Becomes 'War Of Nerves'

LBJ Sees More Action In Steel Price Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel price war of nerves has become a major test of government power and industry will with further escalation likely.

President Johnson said Friday that he was sure there "will be additional action" in the steel situation.

He didn't elaborate on the comment to newsmen. But in view of the vast array of government means to bring pressure—ranging from a change in government purchasing practices already in effect to a federal probe of steel pricing—the message to industry titans was clear.

Within hours of the President's comments, however, four more companies announced selective increases.

There was little doubt they knew of the President's current mood. He said he had sent telegrams to "the men guiding the destiny" of the steel situation asking them to consider the national interest.

The latest companies to hike prices were National Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Armco and Crucible, the last a maker of specialty products and not ranking among the nation's big 10 producers. Only Kaiser and McLouth of the top 10 have not announced increases.

The current steel price hassle began Wednesday when Bethlehem, the No. 2 steelmaker, announced across the board increases of slightly under 5 per cent.

The announcement came within hours of industry agreement with the United Steelworkers Union on a new three-year

No Water, Splash Off

CLINTON, Iowa (AP) — A splash 'n' dance party planned here for Friday night was postponed a week for good reason: no water.

Management of the Clinton municipal pool said vandals broke into the pool's filtration room early in the day and opened water outlet valves.

Before the vandalism was discovered, some 400,000 gallons of the pool's 750,000 gallons of water drained into the Mississippi River.

3 Youths Face Charges In Theft

Larceny charges are to be filed today against three Wellsville youths apprehended about 12:30 a.m. at the Routes 30-11 construction area in the creek valley east of West Point.

Sheriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman said the trio had approximately $400 worth of tools and equipment, apparently taken from a Cleveland Construction Co. toolbox at the site of the new bridge.

A Wellsville juvenile was asleep in the back seat of the car, Wellman said.

Petit larceny charges will be filed in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine against Gary A. Burrows, 18, of 1711 Chester Ave.; Robert M. Campbell, 18, of 1736 Maple Ave., and James A. Buchmann, 19, of 944 Main St., Wellsville.

Officers said none of the youths has been in trouble before. Some tools were in the car, Wellman said, and others were on the ground.

LBJ's Ready To 'Sit Out' Convention

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — With Congress in recess, President Johnson is settling down at his Texas ranch to "sit out" next week's Republican National Convention—perhaps the Democratic one, too.

Before leaving Washington Friday, Johnson told a small group of newsmen he would be taking a close look at the steel situation in the next few days and expected "there will be additional action" in government efforts to roll back price hikes that followed this week's labor contract agreement.

Underlining the point, Johnson brought with him Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford, who has a lot to say about government steel contracts, and Joseph A. Califano Jr., Johnson's special assistant who specialized in past price-hike crises. With their wives, they were spending the weekend at the LBJ ranch near Johnson City, some 65 miles west of here.

tral stance he has held from the beginning.

Asked who he thought would run strongest in Ohio, Rockefeller, Nixon or California Gov. Ronald Reagan, Rhodes replied: "All three of them would do excellent in Ohio."

His personal preference? "I have not made up my mind."

Support of Rhodes and the Ohio delegates would be a major breakthrough for Rockefeller, and a virtual clincher for Nixon.

Rhodes said it would be up to the delegates to decide which way Ohio goes.

Woman Hurt As Cars Ram

A 39-year-old McKees Rocks (Pa.) woman was injured in one of three accidents reported in Hancock County.

Rosemary Musko suffered a possible neck injury and was treated at City Hospital then later transferred to Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks. She was a passenger in a car driven by Edward Robson, 36, of McDonald, Pa., who was struck from behind by a car driven by John McMichael, 27, of Clinton RD 1 Pa., on Route 30 two miles east of Chester today at 1:34 a.m.

The Hancock County sheriff's office said McMichael was coming up the crest of a hill and that Robson's car was stopped in the same lane of traffic without a turn signal on and he didn't see him in time. No citation was issued.

Sheriff's deputies investigated an accident at 10:54 p.m. in Weirton involving a stolen car.

The vehicle owned by Orlo Connor of Noblestown, Pa., and driven by his son was parked outside Frank's Duquesne Bar on Cove Hill Rd. in Weirton.

The driver, upon returning, found the car missing. The person who stole the car left it on a roadway and fled the scene after knocking down three signs and damaging a lawn at the residence of Frank Endry of Pennsylvania Ave.

Deputies said the tires apparently blew out as the car was traveling at a high rate of speed. The investigation is continuing.

At 3:15 p.m. Friday, a car driven by J. William Thomas, 40, of Shreve, Ohio, was struck in the rear by a vehicle operated by Ernest Lamp Jr., 26, of 339 E. 8th St., East Liverpool, as he was leaving the Newell bridge. No citation was issued.

Hill 950 overlooks Khe Sanh, which underwent a 77-day siege last winter and was abandoned in June in favor of a more mobile Marine force along the western flank of the demilitarized zone.

Below Khe Sanh, in the enemy stronghold of A Shau Valley, a light observation helicopter checking on enemy infiltration routes was downed by ground fire. The two-man crew was rescued by another helicopter, but a third chopper, one of a number of aircraft sent in to provide cover, was hit by ground fire and exploded. Two crew members were killed and two others wounded.

Far south near the Cambodian border, U.S. jets, artillery and helicopters destroyed two ox carts loaded with 30 to 40 big Russian-made 122mm rockets, the type used to shell Saigon in two enemy offensives earlier this year.

A U.S. spokesman said an observation helicopter spotted the ox carts about 47 miles northwest of Saigon. The attacking aircraft zeroed in on the carts and set off a string of secondary explosions.

clashes over civil rights and extremism tore deep rents in the party.

The platform wordsmiths got over two big humps during closed sessions Friday—planks on crime and problems of cities.

The dispute on a crime plank was contained, sources said, by giving each side a say. The draft plank calls for vigilant enforcement and declares that individuals, not just society, are accountable for their actions. But it also demands a relentless attack on social and economic conditions that foster crime.

"On the whole it's pretty good," was the verdict of Rep. Charles E. Goodell of New York. He was one of the committee members who listened receptively to the plea of Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois for a platform to show that Republicans care for people.

Goodell also described the plank on urban problems as "very satisfactory, very well balanced." It was reported to call for sharper measures against looting, arson and violence—but also for alleviating poverty and joblessness, and for economic incentives to private industry that would bring factories, jobs and job-training into the slums.

Goodell was credited with a personal victory in persuading the committee to endorse expansion of the Headstart program to help deprived young children overcome the handicaps that put them behind in early school years.

Among these Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio remained an in-ole holdout. Nobody could tell where Gov. George Romney might try to lead his Michigan delegation or where Gov. Spiro T. Agnew would take Maryland.

Backers of Reagan, who says he isn't yet a candidate, put out a brochure that rivaled the well-financed efforts in behalf of Rockefeller. If Rockefeller led the field in pre-convention spending for the elusive nomination, Reagan's people were not far behind.

The swarming pro-Rockefeller troops were adding up all of the bits and pieces they could turn up to argue that Nixon will not become the nominee Wednesday night. They pointed to breaks here and there in the Nixon armament.

A backlog of resentment against Rockefeller for not having campaigned for Barry Goldwater in 1964 was beginning to show itself. No delegate talked about it in those terms, but the resentment residue was there.

Judge Denies Probation Bid

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon denied a request for probation Friday from Richard L. Thorne, 27, of Richmond RD 1 and sentenced him to 1 to 15 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for an East Liverpool burglary.

Two Steubenville residents indicted with Thorne for the Oct. 15 break-in at Loblaw's Market on Dresden Ave. were placed on probation for five years.

Judge Buzzard also granted probation to Robert S. Wilkinson, 34, of 825 Cadmus St., East Liverpool, who pleaded guilty Feb. 5 to four counts of converting to his own use money that came into his possession as an employee of the Seaboard Finance Co.

A Common Pleas Court jury convicted Thorne April 4. He came into court April 15 and asked probation. His companions, Vincent M. DiMichele, 26, of 115 Wellday Ave., and Sam M. Shepherd, 20, of 219 Commercial Ave., admitted the charges and did not go to trial.

As a condition of probation,

DiMichele and Shepherd were ordered to pay Loblaw's for its loss from merchandise stolen and spoilage.

Judge Buzzard ordered Wilkinson to make restitution to his employer at the rate of $50 a month. A condition of probation is that he refrain from visiting any race track and that he refrain from placing any bets at the betting windows or otherwise.

Titles Issued In July For 710 Vehicles

LISBON — The car title section at the Courthouse issued titles for 710 new vehicles in July. This is the largest number since March, 1966, when 734 were titled.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey said the 710 new vehicles last month had a value of $2,173,330. These figures compare with 558 vehicles worth $1,711,066 in July a year ago.

The title department also issued 4,572 auto titles, 67 duplicate titles, 1,146 memorandums, 9 duplicate memorandums, 1,786 notations of lien, 1,368 cancellations of liens and 1,393 acknowledgments.

Stacey said he paid the county treasurer $11,412 in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department.

The clerk's office paid the state treasurer $14,640 from the collection of sales and use tax, $97,370 from the collection of the dealers' tax, $2,482 for car title fees and $1,036 for inspection certificates.

Seventy-five civil cases were filed last month in Common Pleas Court.

Not Guilty Plea Filed

In Threatening Case

William H. Copestick, 31, of 845 Valley Ave., East Liverpool, pleaded not guilty Thursday in Columbiana County Southwest Court at Lisbon to a charge of threatening a Wellsville woman — Lucy M. Biacco of 1107 Center St. — who filed the affidavit Monday.

Judge J. L. MacDonald reduced Copestick's bond from $500 to $100 and he was released from the County Jail after making bail through a bondsman. Court personnel said the hearing will be scheduled for September.

Bernice will be a busy girl during state 4-H Days this year, since she is presenting her 15-minute demonstration in the state competition. In addition to the demonstration, she will be interviewed as a Keystone winner in agriculture and as outstanding 4-H girl. She also will participate in the awards' program to be held Wednesday morning.

With all of these 4-H activities, Bernice still has time to play in the band at South Side High School, where she is a senior.

Mr. Leary Asks Guidelines

Howard R. Leary, head of the New York City Police Department, citing increased permissiveness in American society and the social revolution, has asked the New York State Legislature to draw up guidelines for police in demonstrations and riots.

Police Commissioner Leary told a legislative committee specific instructions would be helpful to police and citizens involved in cases of violence, pilfering and property destruction.

Mr. Leary's request is most unusual. It would seem police commissioners, above all people, would be aware of the duty of officers to keep the peace, apprehend lawbreakers and protect law-abiding citizens.

He is correct in saying permissiveness has increased in American society but we are under the impression that laws are still on the books and are meant to be obeyed.

The question of permissiveness in police actions is more in the mind of officers in charge than in the mind of citizens expecting police protection along with arrest and prosecution of anyone breaking the law.

It is hoped there is less doubt about the duty of a police department among officials in other cities than that expressed by Mr. Leary.

Manpower situations and other factors make on-the-spot decisions necessary in varying situations, but there should never be any doubt that the law is to be upheld.

Erosion of effective enforcement procedures is evident in today's violent headlines.

Divers factors are involved in the complex nature of today's lack of respect for authority. Perhaps one is the type of attitude related by Mr. Leary.

If top police officials do not know their job and their duty, is it any wonder someone is always taking advantage of the situation?

Telling It Like It Is

That side of the hippie life behind the beads and long hair has been tragically revealed again.

A 13-year-old Vickery, Ohio, girl became the victim of the life that has such lure for some teen-agers.

The runaway girl's body was found at the bottom of an air shaft in a tenement house on New York's Lower East Side. Police said she had been raped and then tossed down the shaft while still alive.

We recall a similar tragedy that befell a young New York girl who was brutally murdered a few months ago in a New York hippie den.

Parents, teachers and clergymen can talk all they want about the evil side of a life of self indulgence and irresponsibility and make no impression at all on young listeners.

Maybe the hard facts of bloody murders, mind-shredding drug effects and degrading living conditions in lairs of filth will have more impact on those inclined toward beads and bumming.

As headlines "Tell It Like It Is," maybe someone will listen.

UFO's Still Puzzlers

Through the years the Unidentified Flying Object controversy has been awarded its share of headlines.

The believers and the skeptics alike have had large amounts of publicity.

There have been periods during which reports of a "flying saucer" sighting followed one another in quick succession. Then there have been other times when the public almost forgot about the UFOs because there was nothing to remind it of them.

BUT THE UFOS, fact or fiction, still are with us.

Just Monday a group of prominent scientists appearing at a symposium sponsored by a U.S. House of Representatives committee in Washington called for long-term, government-backed programs to study UFOs in an effort to determine just what they are and to understand them.

The six scientists, all representing distinguished American institutions, agree that too many sightings have defied analysis to rule out the possibility that this world is under surveillance by beings from outer space.

Their recommendations include: establishing a board of scientific inquiry to sponsor UFO investigations, setting up an international clearing house to correlate similar reports from around the world, setting up UFO tracking systems, providing teams and instrument packages to be rushed to the scenes of sightings and expanding present radio astronomy programs.

IF THERE ARE, in truth, UFOs, we have learned precious little about them during these many years.

This, in itself, serves to indicate the difficulty facing our scientists if they are assigned the task of solving the UFO puzzle.

If you get a chance to taste a Chinese gooseberry take it. Don't let the name scare you. It is a fruit with a brown skin about the size of a lemon and is imported from New Zealand under the brand name "Kiwi." The kiwi is New Zealand's national bird.

A Chinese gooseberry may be cut in half crossways and eaten with a spoon out of the peel or cut up and used in a salad. It tastes something like a pear. When cut in half the tiny edible seeds form a star-like pattern on the face of the cut.

Maybe the Chinese call them "American gooseberries."

The recent re-election of Gen. de Gaulle in France shows that he is a prophet not without honor save outside his own country. Some other heads of state could not claim that.

President Johnson not long ago shook hands like a campaigner with members of the crowd at the fence at an airport in Honduras. How long has it been since he has done that in this country?

Many U.S. mayors are quoting the line "Curfew it must ring tonight," from a poem by Rosa Hartwick Thorpe (1850-1939). In medieval Europe a bell was rung in the evening to notify people to put out or cover their fires and the word "curfew" literally means "cover the fire-place."

Two recent comments about Karl Marx, the patron saint of the Communists, somehow seem to fit together.

In his biography "Marx," Robert Payne says, that "he would have been the first to protest against the anarchic government of a self-appointed bureaucracy, and among the first to be killed" in the Bolshevik Revolution.

And in a letter to the Saturday Review, Frederick J. Hooven, a professor of engineering at Dartmouth College, said he once observed the similarity of doing things in Russian industry and ours and asked a Russian, "Where does Marx fit into all this?"

The Russian answered, "I think the Russian attitude toward Marx is much like the American attitude toward Jesus Christ. We worship him, but we pay no attention to his teachings."

Everyone is cheering the Czechs on in their struggle for freedom from Russia and if they succeed we can look forward to years of debate as to whether we should give them financial aid and trade as has been the case with Tito in Yugoslavia which gained a measure of freedom from Russian domination.

Plans for investing private funds in ghettos by corporations are long overdue. Nothing else has worked. Investments years ago might have prevented today's turmoil.

"Nature abhors a vacuum," which is why the government had to step in with all its various costly programs which have not been very successful.

With all the talk these days of disagreements

We have not yet, I think, taken any giant strides.

—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, agreeing with Clark Clifford, secretary of defense, that there has been "some movement" however slight, at the Paris peace talks.

We have to stop it with victory, or it will start all over again in a few years.

Labor Shuns Humphrey Bash

NEW YORK: — Outside the graying Waldorf Astoria, the raggedy, bearded pickets tried to stop Hubert Humphrey. Inside, black-tie, long-gowned, $500-a-place partisans tried to start him up. Neither crowd succeeded.

In the grand ballroom, the banquet which began with a discolored bang went out with a whimper. It was not one of Hubert Horatio Humphrey's grandest moments.

He had come to dazzle New York, to stir its old political families, to recall the glories of successful crusades before the Republicans swept everything.

And he wound up with the coup of the evening — being photographed between two ex-champs, Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis.

The implication of the photo probably was lost on him. Apparently it was not lost on a doleful Larry O'Brien. At the end of the evening this past Tuesday, he and his gracious lady seemed relieved to slip out of the hotel alone, unrecognized, ungreeted, as they headed for Park Ave. with their memories of the crackling hours of the Kennedy campaigns.

It was a sad affair, and Hubert Humphrey seemed sadder though it was all meant to stifle this concrete concentrate of McCarthy sentiment into believing there is a dynamic Humphrey campaign in the city of old Tammany and Roosevelt memories.

If there is a campaign it wasn't noticeable — nor audible in the old dining hall, where a thousand politicians have been cheered to the balcony rafters so loudly they even ate the assembly-line roast beef.

HAD IT NOT BEEN for the thunderous, clanging "orchestra," it might have been a wake. The handleader stopped long enough to ask Mr. Humphrey and Muriel to take the dance floor — alone. Sort of a Fred and Adele Astaire routine, to the tune of "Accentuate the positive, Eliminate the negative, Don't mess with Mr. In-Between."

The music may have forgotten this was a political rally and not a wedding, but Hubert and Muriel obliged and danced like the parents of the bride.

Some of the steps drew more applause than his speech, which the Vice President did not make until the master of ceremonies finished his vaudeville bit, and was followed by a comedian, if you'll forgive the expression, whose gags seemed older than the traditionalist politicians present — Jim Farley, Monroe Goldwater, Mrs. Anna Rosenberg Hoffman (and Paul), and some real veterans of the political wars of the '30s.

There was no elan, no eclat—but even more surprising, mighty few labor leaders. Of national and international stature, there was only Lou Stulberg, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers.

Stulberg always has been a loyal and stand-up chap. He would not let an old friend down. And so he came, with his gracious lady.

The National Maritime Union filled a table, and some local leaders of the Service Employees International Union were scattered through the hall.

Thus it was not what Hubert Humphrey said, or how he and Muriel danced, which made the news. It was the absence of the city's labor movement which should have made the headlines.

THEY STAYED AWAY in droves. Except for Stulberg, the giants were not there — and the city is full of labor mastiffs, who lead almost 1.5 million unionists.

They could have turned the dirge into a demonstration. Then, the band — I guess that's what it was — would not have had to defuse the crowd when "HHH" first walked in amid applause which can only be described as desultory.

And then, had the labor leaders come from the docks, the shops, the plants, and the offices, it would not have been necessary to paper the house, nor to put the "head tables" on floor level to camouflage the "sparsity," as one waiter put it.

No one really knows why the labor leaders dopped out. It's too early for a poll.

IT COULD BE that the Humphrey organizers just did not get to them. It could be that Mr. Humphrey himself just has not reached them. It could be that this is the entire Humphrey campaign is microcosm.

But this is New York. It's the world's most banquet-going town — no one turns down tickets to a testimonial for a chap who might be useful in the future.

Or it could be that Mr. Humphrey's people have been talking too much about "HHH" becoming his own man and not LBJ's. The labor people like LBJ.

They don't enthuse much for the kind of crowd which awakened only once to cheer Mr. Humphrey — and that came when he said that "peace talkers are 10 cents a dozen. Peace workers and peace makers are priceless . . . when you search for peace you can't do it among your circle of friends. You must be willing to go into the camp of the enemy."

But the labor leaders did not seem to be missed by the crowd, which seemed stultified by the bellowing of singer Trini Lopez, who is going to be with HHH now for the duration. He's going to help with the voter registration drive. And the vice president did get endorsement of the Supremes, a popular singing trio. They'll help too, though it could be that they're not really equipped to perform miracles.

GOP's Outlook

The best advice to all political watchers on the eve of the Republican national convention is this: hear as little as you can and believe little that you hear. For this is the mad, mad moment before a convention in which there is likely to be a serious contest.

For I have seen all this in presidential years, and in some instances I have been the beneficiary of an inside seat. Nobody knows for sure what the count will be and I feel certain that a good many delegates, at the moment, do not even know how they will vote.

The news media must subsist, in the face of such uncertainties, upon speculation. And while they must say and write something in such a situation, the ceiling for pure guesswork is unlimited. For into the sources of news there is thrust the reckless claims of the contestants.

THESE CLAIMS are not designed to enlighten. They are designed to frighten the enemy and to sustain the hopes of the faithful. Managers know that encouragement must be supplied for the wavering and uncertain and that the committed must be stiffened in their resolution.

But if we choose to view with some candor a number of underlying facts, the extravagant claims of candidates and some of the baseless speculation may be appraised for what they are.

A good deal of the comment about Richard Nixon's chance for the nomination is centered upon the six states from North Carolina to Louisiana. I omit Florida about which I have no firsthand knowledge.

The last-minute claims of Nelson Rockefeller are based, by a strong turn of logic or illogic, not upon his own strength down there (which is nonexistent) but upon the alleged inroads of support for Ronald Reagan.

My own knowledge of Republican affairs in those states is based upon a visit to them three months ago and a long-distance check within the past week.

This is the situation as I see it:

The Republican leaders in those states, after some calculation, generally decide that the best interests of their party would be served by the nomination of Nixon. Their earlier hope was centered upon Reagan just as Barry Goldwater was their choice four years ago.

But the poor showing of Reagan in the primaries of the North and West convinced them that he could not win the nomination and, if nominated, that he could not be elected. Their hearts might be with Reagan but their minds turned to Nixon.

Moreover, these leaders were troubled by the presence in their states of a good many extremists, some of whom were avowed Birchites. Those irreconcilable people would rather lose with Reagan than win with Nixon. And a small number secured places as delegates.

It is that fringe which so encourages Rockefeller. An amazing fact, since the New York governor had such hard things to say about extremists in 1964.

A fact which adds to the unusual turn of events is that those leaders have become greatly disturbed by the threat of a Rockefeller candidacy. This has strengthened their attachment to Nixon, because a Rockefeller nomination would practically extinguish the Republican party in the South. In such an event, George Wallace would probably carry every state below the Mason-Dixon line.

THUS, WE HAVE the hopes of Rockefeller centered upon Reagan. Another curious turn of affairs, since Rockefeller and Reagan are poles (not polls) apart in their views upon the issues.

It has been reported that Reagan will have half or more of the Louisiana delegation. This I know from unimpeachable sources is not true. The split will be Nixon 20, Reagan 6.

Also, it is not true that the South Carolina delegation, which is bound to Nixon by the unit rule, is breaking up. These are examples of the speculation which is spreading its wings on the eve of the convention.

Thus, it is best to wait until the first ballot has been cast, counted and validated.

But this is New York. It's the world's most banquet-going town — no one turns down tickets to a testimonial for a chap who might be useful in the future.

Or it could be that Mr. Humphrey's people have been talking too much about "HHH" becoming his own man and not LBJ's. The labor people like LBJ.

They don't enthuse much for the kind of crowd which awakened only once to cheer Mr. Humphrey — and that came when he said that "peace talkers are 10 cents a dozen. Peace workers and peace makers are priceless . . . when you search for peace you can't do it among your circle of friends. You must be willing to go into the camp of the enemy."

But the labor leaders did not seem to be missed by the crowd, which seemed stultified by the bellowing of singer Trini Lopez, who is going to be with HHH now for the duration. He's going to help with the voter registration drive. And the vice president did get endorsement of the Supremes, a popular singing trio. They'll help too, though it could be that they're not really equipped to perform miracles.

RAYMOND MOLEY

GOP's Outlook

The best advice to all political watchers on the eve of the Republican national convention is this: hear as little as you can and believe little that you hear. For this is the mad, mad moment before a convention in which there is likely to be a serious contest.

For I have seen all this in presidential years, and in some instances I have been the beneficiary of an inside seat. Nobody knows for sure what the count will be and I feel certain that a good many delegates, at the moment, do not even know how they will vote.

The news media must subsist, in the face of such uncertainties, upon speculation. And while they must say and write something in such a situation, the ceiling for pure guesswork is unlimited. For into the sources of news there is thrust the reckless claims of the contestants.

THESE CLAIMS are not designed to enlighten. They are designed to frighten the enemy and to sustain the hopes of the faithful. Managers know that encouragement must be supplied for the wavering and uncertain and that the committed must be stiffened in their resolution.

But if we choose to view with some certitude a number of underlying facts, the extravagant claims of candidates and some of the baseless speculation may be appraised for what they are.

A good deal of the comment about Richard Nixon's chance for the nomination is centered upon the six states from North Carolina to Louisiana. I omit Florida about which I have no firsthand knowledge.

The last-minute claims of Nelson Rockefeller are based, by a strong turn of logic or illogic, not upon his own strength down there (which is nonexistent) but upon the alleged inroads of support for Ronald Reagan.

My own knowledge of Republican affairs in those states is based upon a visit to them three months ago and a long-distance check within the past week.

This is the situation as I see it:

The Republican leaders in those states, after some calculation, generally decide that the best interests of their party would be served by the nomination of Nixon. Their earlier hope was centered upon Reagan just as Barry Goldwater was their choice four years ago.

But the poor showing of Reagan in the primaries of the North and West convinced them that he could not win the nomination and, if nominated, that he could not be elected. Their hearts might be with Reagan but their minds turned to Nixon.

Moreover, these leaders were troubled by the presence in their states of a good many extremists, some of whom were avowed Birchites. Those irreconcilable people would rather lose with Reagan than win with Nixon. And a small number secured places as delegates.

It is that fringe which so encourages Rockefeller. An amazing fact, since the New York governor had such hard things to say about extremists in 1964.

A fact which adds to the unusual turn of events is that those leaders have become greatly disturbed by the threat of a Rockefeller candidacy. This has strengthened their attachment to Nixon, because a Rockefeller nomination would practically extinguish the Republican party in the South. In such an event, George Wallace would probably carry every state below the Mason-Dixon line.

THUS, WE HAVE the hopes of Rockefeller centered upon Reagan. Another curious turn of affairs, since Rockefeller and Reagan are poles (not polls) apart in their views upon the issues.

It has been reported that Reagan will have half or more of the Louisiana delegation. This I know from unimpeachable sources is not true. The split will be Nixon 20, Reagan 6.

Also, it is not true that the South Carolina delegation, which is bound to Nixon by the unit rule, is breaking up. These are examples of the speculation which is spreading its wings on the eve of the convention.

Thus, it is best to wait until the first ballot has been cast, counted and validated.

Judith K. Ankrom Weds In Church Ceremony Here

The traditions were observed when Miss Judith K. Ankrom, daughter of Mrs. Esther Armstrong of Fairview Rd., Chester, and Gale Ankrom of Route 30, Chester, became the bride of Richard R. Haught, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Haught of Smithfield, W. Va., July 27 at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Russell Kauffman officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Helen Boley presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Fred Kane was soloist.

ESCORTED to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length, A-line gown of white silk organza over tulle adorned with appliques of embroidered Alencon lace. The Empire bodice featured a scoop neckline and long, bell-shaped sleeves. The Watteau train was detachable.

Her shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a coronet of fluted silk organza edged with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a silver bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom, and a pearl necklace. Her cascade arrangement of white carnations, stephanotis and fern was centered with white orchids and tied with satin streamers.

Miss Susan Barnhart, maid of honor, wore a full-length gown of aqua silk fashioned with an Empire bodice, scoop neckline and elbow-length, bell-shaped sleeves.

Bridesmaids appearing in identical gowns were Miss Sharon Fisher in lemon yellow and Miss Karen Palmer in strawberry pink — both are cousins of the bride — and Miss Daisy Myers in lime green.

Their headpieces were coronets of matching silk with tulle veils. They carried Colonial bouquets of carnations, lily-of-the-valley and ivy, tied with white satin streamers. They received bridesmaid charms as gifts from the bride.

Mary Wilson, flower girl, appeared in a gown similar to those of the attendants. Aqua velvet streamers fell from the back of the Empire bodice. She wore a matching lace headpiece and carried a basket of blue and white carnation petals. She received a silver bracelet and charm from the bride.

his cousin's best man. Ushers were Randy Fisher, cousin of the bride, and Donald Haught and Leroy Haught, brothers of the bridegroom. They received the lace from the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath of pink lace trimmed with satin. White accessories and carnation corsage complemented her attire. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua crepe sheath with white accessories and rosebud corsage. Mrs. Lottie Ankrom, grandmother of the bride, wore a gold color suit with white accessories and carnation corsage.

A RECEPTION for 150 followed at Mary Patterson Memorial, where Miss Deanna Brooks registered guests. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake encircled at the base with white carnations and fernery and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Completing the setting was crystal candelabra entwined with white carnations and fernery and holding lighted blue tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Albert Palmer, Mrs. Howard Fisher, Miss Debbie Stover, Miss Kathy Stover and Miss Chris Abrams.

For her honeymoon trip, the bride wore a beige cotton lace dress with orange accessories and her bridal orchids.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Oak Glen High School. Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Valley High School at Pine Grove, W. Va., and served four years in the Marine Corps. He is employed at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Corp.

Judith K. Ankrom Weds In Church Ceremony Here

The traditions were observed when Miss Judith K. Ankrom, daughter of Mrs. Esther Armstrong of Fairview Rd., Chester, and Gale Ankrom of Route 30, Chester, became the bride of Richard R. Haught, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Haught of Smithfield, W. Va., July 27 at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Russell Kauffman officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews. Mrs. Helen Royle presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Fred Kane was soloist.

ESCORTED to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length, A-line gown of white silk organza over taffeta adorned with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The Empire bodice featured a scoop neckline and long, bell-shaped sleeves. The Watteau train was detachable.

Her shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a coronet of fluted silk organza edged with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a silver bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom, and a pearl necklace. Her cascade arrangement of white carnations, stephanotis and fern was centered with white orchids and tied with satin streamers.

Miss Susan Barnhart, maid of honor, wore a full-length gown of aqua silk fashioned with an Empire bodice, scoop neckline and elbow-length, bell-shaped sleeves.

Bridesmaids appearing in identical gowns were Miss Sharon Fisher in lemon yellow and Miss Karen Palmer in strawberry pink — both are cousins of the bride — and Miss Daisy Myers in lime green.

Their headpieces were coronets of matching silk with theater veils. They carried Colonial bouquets of carnations, tinted to match their gowns, lily-of-the-valley and ivy, tied with white satin streamers. They received bridesmaid charms as gifts from the bride.

Mary Wilson, flower girl, appeared in a gown similar to those of the attendants. Aqua velvet streamers fell from the back of the Empire bodice. She wore a matching lace headpiece and carried a basket of blue and white carnation petals. She received a silver bracelet and charm from the bride.

Roger L. Haught served as

Human Relations Event

Workshop Plans Pushed By Midland Commission

The budget for an Oct. 12 workshop was announced when the Midland Human Relations Commission met Thursday night at the Council chambers.

Charles R. Schmitt, chairman, presided.

Funds totaling $650, to be donated by Midland Borough, will cover the expense of printing and mailing announcements, paying a guest speaker and the cost of a catered luncheon.

CO-CHAIRMEN are Emeric Davis and James Morrison who confirmed that the keynote speaker will be State Rep. LeRoy K. Irvis of Pittsburgh's Hill District. Rep. Irvis is minority whip.

The event at Lincoln High School will include workshops on "Improving Human Relations" in employment, education, public services and accommodations, housing and real estate, and youth.

Mayor Eli G. Corak, who named the commission four years ago, has said he "is hopeful the workshops will expose the real community problems which might be hidden to many."

The keynote address and discussion will feature the morning program, while individual workshops and an assembly will be held in the afternoon.

The commission Thursday decided to name a junior chairman to assist with plans. Thomas Curry was asked to solicit the aid of 12 borough youths to help with arrangements.

Two moderators will be selected to lead each workshop with the assistance of local and state commission members.

DAVIS outlined a complete program. His arrangements committee includes William Dickey, the Rev. Oscar Arnal, Mrs. Mary T. Wilson, James Perkins and Mrs. Rosemarie Stevenson. Serving on the invitations committee are Mrs. Schmitt, Mrs. James Green and Mrs. Barbara Peterson.

The commission decided to personally present a workshop invitation to each resident of Midland with the aid of neighborhood representatives who will be appointed. Each printed invitation will contain a perforated return card which should be returned, indicating a desire to attend the workshop. Invitation letters will be mailed to churches, clubs and all area organizations.

Davis lamented the fact that few have shown interest in the workshop. He urged the attendance of all commissions members and all interested persons, including civic leaders and representatives of all organizations, at the next open planning session Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. at the Council chambers.

In other business, Will T. Leavell, commission member, announced the fourth anniversary luncheon of the commission will be Sept. 13 at the Crucible Management Club. The speaker will be Mel Good, NBC news commentator. Tickets may be obtained from Leavell. Davis is co-chairman.

Temperatures during July were close to the norm for the district, but rainfall was short, according to the monthly summary of Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport.

The average temperature last month was 70 degrees, he said, a half degree under the normal 70.5.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

The Importance Of The Church

More than 1900 years ago Jesus promised to build his church. Mt. 16:18 "Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The Lord's church has been built because we read in Acts 2:47 about the Lord adding people who obeyed the gospel, to the church. They could not have been added to the church if it did not exist.

There are a number of doctrines being taught today that tend to minimize the importance of the church. Every such doctrine must be false. The church that Jesus built is of vital importance to us. Men ought to be very careful about making statements that reflect on the importance of the church.

Let it be noted that the church is important because of the great price paid for it. The church was purchased with the precious blood of Jesus Christ. Acts 20:28 "... feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood." Can you think of a greater price that could have been paid for the church? It took the blood of the only Son of God to buy it and to give us the opportunity to become sons of God. Certainly no one would say that Christ shed his blood for something that we do not need. Yet some have said, "You don't need to be a member of the church to be saved. You can go to Heaven without the church." If these ideas were true, then it is true that Christ died in vain. The fact is that the church is important because it was bought by the precious blood of Christ.

The church is also important because of the fact that salvation has been placed in it. The ark was important to Noah because God placed salvation in it. The house of Rahab was important to her because of the fact that salvation was promised in it. The church today is important to us because of the promise of salvation that is in it. In Acts 2:47 we learn that the Lord adds the saved to the church. If all of the church, there is no justification for people speaking of being saved but not being members of the church that Jesus built. If they indeed have salvation, the Lord has added them to the church. Notice the fact that salvation is promised to those who are in the church. Eph. 5:23 "For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church; and he is the saviour of the body." Thus the promise of salvation is for the church.

It is not hard to see just how important the church is. It is important enough that it took the blood of the Lord to buy it and it is important because of the fact that salvation has been placed in it. Are you a member of the church? Think seriously about this matter.

Human Relations Event

Workshop Plans Pushed By Midland Commission

The budget for an Oct. 12 workshop was announced when the Midland Human Relations Commission met Thursday night at the Council chambers. Charles R. Schmitt, chairman, presided.

Funds totaling $650, to be donated by Midland Borough, will cover the expense of printing and mailing announcements, paying a guest speaker and the cost of a catered luncheon.

CO-CHAIRMEN are Emerie Davis and James Morrison who confirmed that the keynote speaker will be State Rep. LeRoy K. Irvis of Pittsburgh's Hill District. Rep. Irvis is minority whip.

The event at Lincoln High School will include workshops on "Improving Human Relations" in employment, education, public services and accommodations, housing and real estate, and youth.

Mayor Eli G. Corak, who named the commission four years ago, has said he "is hopeful the workshops will expose the real community problems which might be hidden to many."

The keynote address and discussion will feature the morning program, while individual workshops and an assembly will be held in the afternoon.

The commission Thursday decided to name a junior chairman to assist with plans. Thomas Curry was asked to solicit the aid of 12 borough youths to help with arrangements.

Two moderators will be selected to lead each workshop with the assistance of local and state commission members.

DAVIS outlined a complete program. His arrangements committee includes William Dickey, the Rev. Oscar Arnal, Mrs. Mary T. Wilson, James Perkins and Mrs. Rosemarie Stevenson. Serving on the invitations committee are Mrs. Schmitt, Mrs. James Green and Mrs. Barbara Peterson.

The commission decided to personally present a workshop invitation to each resident of Midland with the aid of neighborhood representatives who will be appointed. Each printed invitation will contain a perforated return card which should be returned, indicating a desire to attend the workshop. Invitation letters will be mailed to churches, clubs and all area organizations.

Davis lamented the fact that few have shown interest in the workshop. He urged the attendance of all commissions members and all interested persons, including civic leaders and representatives of all organizations, at the next open planning session Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. at the Council chambers.

In other business, Will T. Leavell, commission member, announced the fourth anniversary luncheon of the commission will be Sept. 13 at the Crucible Management Club. The speaker will be Mel Good, NBC news commentator. Tickets may be obtained from Leavell. Davis is co-chairman.

Rain Needed, According To July Report

Temperatures during July were close to the norm for the district, but rainfall was short, according to the monthly summary of Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport.

The average temperature last month was 70 degrees, he said, a half degree under the normal 70.5.

A high of 93 degrees were recorded July 22 and 91 degrees on July 1 and July 18. The low of 37 degrees occurred July 4.

There were 16 clear days, nine partly cloudy days and six cloudy days during the month. Sunshine amounted to 68 per cent, compared with the normal 65 per cent.

Rainfall totaled to 2.28 inches, more than two inches under the normal 4.3 inches for July on Copeland's records, which date back 75 years.

However, Copeland pointed out the rainfall was very scattered, with some areas receiving four inches in one week, while elsewhere, drought conditions existed.

He said pastures are poor, the second hay crop is light and most of the corn is not chin high yet. "In fact, no crops did very well in July," he stated, adding, "These conditions apply only to the sites where rain has been sparse. A good all-day rain is needed."

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

The Importance Of The Church

More than 1900 years ago Jesus promised to build his church. Mt. 16:18 "Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The Lord's church has been built because we read in Acts 2:47 about the Lord adding people who obeyed the gospel, to the church. They could not have been added to the church if it did not exist.

There are a number of doctrines being taught today that tend to minimize the importance of the church. Every such doctrine must be false. The church that Jesus built is of vital importance to us. Men ought to be very careful about making statements that reflect on the importance of the church.

Let it be noted that the church is important because of the great price paid for it. The church was purchased with the precious blood of Jesus Christ. Acts 20:28, "... feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood." Can you think of a greater price that could have been paid for the church? It took the blood of the only Son of God to buy it and to give us the opportunity to become sons of God. Certainly no one would say that Christ shed his blood for something that we do not need. Yet some have said, "You don't need to be a member of the church to be saved. You can go to Heaven without the church." If these ideas were true, then it is true that Christ died in vain. The fact is that the church is important because it was bought by the precious blood of Christ.

The church is also important because of the fact that salvation has been placed in it. The ark was important to Noah because God placed salvation in it. The house of Rahab was important to her because of the fact that salvation was promised in it. The church today is important to us because of the promise of salvation that is in it. In Acts 2:47 we learn that the Lord adds the saved to the church. If all of the church, there is no justification for people speaking of being saved but not being members of the church that Jesus built. If they indeed have salvation, the Lord has added them to the church. Notice the fact that salvation is promised to those who are in the church. Eph. 5:23, "For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church; and he is the saviour of the body." Thus the promise of salvation is for the church.

It is not hard to see just how important the church is. It is important enough that it took the blood of the Lord to buy it and it is important because of the fact that salvation has been placed in it. Are you a member of the church? Think seriously about this matter.

Sirhan's Attorney May Rely On 'Disputed' Defense Tactic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's attorney may rely on a little used and controversial defense tactic to try to reduce the penalty his client would face if convicted of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The 24-year-old Sirhan pleaded innocent to the murder charge Friday but attorney Russell E. Parsons reserved the right to make new motions within 35 days under California law. One option available is the defense of "diminished capacity," or partial insanity.

If employing this tactic, the defense would try to show through psychiatric evidence that because of a mental disease or defect the defendant could not form the specific intent, malice and premeditation required for conviction of first-degree murder.

Until 1949 California courts had ruled against the defense in the use of such a device, holding that insanity is either a full defense requiring a plea of innocent by reason of insanity, or no defense at all. Decisions since 1949 have made the defense feasible. It would not result in acquittal if successful, but would reduce the charge to second-degree murder or manslaughter.

At Sirhan's 2½-minute court appearance Friday, the Jordanian immigrant's trial was set for Nov. 1. After Sirhan entered his plea Parsons said he did not know if his client is sane. He said he still is studying reports by two defense psychiatrists and is waiting for his client to have his brain X-rayed.

The court was convened in a special facility on the 13th floor of the hall of justice, about 50 feet from Sirhan's isolated cell. Sirhan's mother and three of his four brothers were in the makeshift courtroom.

When asked how he wished to plead, he replied in a loud, clear voice: "Not guilty."

He also pleaded innocent to five counts of assault with a deadly weapon and with intent to commit murder. Five other persons were wounded in the fusillade of shots that killed Sen. Kennedy last June 5 at the Ambassador Hotel.

Can't Ignore U.S., Jap Treaty, Sato Says

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato told Japan today it could not turn its back on its obligations under the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

"No nation can hope to insure its national security without shouldering some burden," he said as he reminded his countrymen that under the treaty the United States assumes the defense of Japan in exchange for bases on Japanese soil.

He sharply rapped armed university students who in recent months have fought pitched battles with police in anti-American demonstrations related to the treaty.

Wallace Due Nomination

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Not one but two state conventions of the American Independent party convene today to nominate George C. Wallace for president.

The two conventions grew out of a dispute among Wallace supporters in California. "That's a sign of a healthy party, to have a little dissension," Wallace said when he arrived Friday night.

A result of the dispute could be selection of competing 40-member slates of presidential electors, with a court decision needed to choose the legal one.

Wallace addresses the convention his aides consider to be the "real one," the one attended by a number of the 60 American Independent party nominees for Congress and the legislature chosen in the June 4 primary.

The other convention was organized by William K. Shearer, who claims to be the state party chairman. He said there are 194 eligible delegates and all are invited to his convention. Shearer said these potential delegates include those chosen by county and state party committees.

Shearer, an early organizer of the party in California, said he'd had no communication with Wallace. "I have no ideas what his plans are. Certainly, he would be welcome if he cares to come to our convention."

Strikes Idle 4 Republic Steel Plants

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Strikes have idled a Republic Steel Corp. plant in Canton and three steel plants in the Warren area.

Some 3,500 Republic workers were off the job as a wildcat strike hit the 8th Street NE plant for the second day Friday. The walkout started Wednesday midnight. A back - to work movement started Thursday, but picket lines were established again Thursday midnight.

Local issues which sparked the walkout were not disclosed. Company and union negotiators reached agreement on a new national contract in Pittsburgh Wednesday.

Idled by walkouts in the Warren area were the Tomas Strip Division of the Pittsburgh Steel Co., Copperweld Steel Co., and the Van Huffel Tube Division of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Sewage Permit Reminder Given Trailer Owners

LISBON — Dr. M. K. Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner, has reminded house trailer owners they must obtain a permit before connecting a trailer to a sewage disposal system.

Once the installation is made, the owner must call for an inspection by the health department's plumbing inspector. This regulation has been in effect since Sept. 1, 1966.

Dr. Singer said a $3 penalty will be added to the permit fee for those not obtaining a permit before beginning work. Those who do not comply may be prosecuted, he pointed out.

He has ordered the plumbing inspector to check all trailers that have been connected to sewage systems and, where no permit has been applied for previously, to demand that a permit be secured.

No more permits will be issued for trailer septic tanks unless the owner obtains a plumbing permit at the same time, Dr. Singer said.

The coupe driven by Morrisette struck the rear of a panel truck operated by Lloyd R. Ramsey, 48, of 115 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, who was halted at a stop sign on township Route 483.

Israel Seen Blocking U.N. Bid On Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel is blocking U.N. attempts to look into humanitarian problem growing out of the 1967 Middle East war, Secretary General U Thant reported Friday.

Israel's demand that U.N. envoy Miles Gussing look into the condition of Jewish communities in Arab countries is the main obstacle Thant indicated. He said this was not part of an earlier Gussing mission and that broadening the scope of the mission means "there is no basis at present on which the mission could proceed."

The Israeli demand was not suggested at the time the resolutions of the General Assembly and Security Council called for an investigation of the treatment of Arabs in Israeli-held territory.

Car Plunges Off Highway, Man Unhurt

A 22-year-old Dixonville man escaped serious injury early this morning when his car plunged down a steep embankment along Park Way, while three women drivers were apparently unhurt in a Dresden Ave. collision Friday.

A 1966 convertible driven by Randall Cecil Stover of Dixonville was demolished when it veered over the embankment along Park Way near Broad St. about 4:11 a.m.

City police said Stover was headed north when the mishap occurred.

He told officers another vehicle rounded the curve on the wrong side of the highway and he swerved to avoid a crash.

The car skidded some 30 feet on soft soil and grass, then struck guardrails and a post and went over the embankment on the left side. Stover said the driver of the other auto did not stop.

Cars operated by Rebecca Lynn Priest, 17, of New Manchester, Dorothy A. Davis, 44, of 1745 Idaho Ave. and Elizabeth Mae Drumpus, 24, of 720 Daisy Ln. were involved in the mishap on Dresden Ave. at W. 9th St. about 2:33 p.m.

Officers said the Priest girl, driving a 1965 sedan, and the Davis woman, operating a 1963 coupe, were halted on Dresden, when the 1964 sedan driven by the Drumpus woman hit the Priest auto, knocking it into the other.

The Drumpus woman told police she was headed north on Dresden about 30 miles an hour, tried to stop for the cars ahead, but couldn't then tried to turn out around the Priest car, but couldn't, and her car struck the other.

Biafran Leader Halts Shooting In Peace Talks

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Biafran leader Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu said today he has ordered a cease-fire in his breakaway territory during peace talks with Nigeria scheduled to start Monday in the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa.

Ojukwu added in a broadcast monitored in Lagos that Nigeria has not shown any interest in a truce. But, he said, Biafra will seek "an honorable and just settlement" of the 13-month civil war.

Commenting on the announcement, Nigeria's foreign affairs commissioner Okoi Arikpo said: "I know why he has declared a cease-fire. He has very little left."

Biafran forces are surrounded by three Nigerian divisions in an area totaling about one third of what Biafra claimed when it seceded in May 1967.

Arikpo said the Nigerian government was always willing to "compromise. He said he had in mind amnesty for most of the rebel leaders, boundary adjustments and a constitutional conference as soon as feasible.

Armco Boosts Price On Some Products

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. has announced a 4½ per cent price increase on some steel products, effective Aug. 8.

"Inflationary pressures already built up by higher wages, taxes, interest rates and prices on products and services we must buy have forced us to adjust prices so our company can remain economically sound," an Armco spokesman said Friday.

They had waited for this real vacation — this long trip — for years. But this time it was different, this time he wouldn't be going back to his job.

At first, retirement seemed frightening, like being shut off from the mainstream of life. He had seen too many men age beyond their years, after their career ended. He had no wish to be on the sidelines. He and his wife could have moved to a warmer climate and just have taken it easy. He didn't want that. So, before he left home, he had a long talk with his minister.

He found that there was plenty a man his age could do. Financially secure, he could afford to volunteer for a job. In fact, through the Church there was work he could do that would spread to the farthest corners of the world.

Right now, he is enjoying this vacation. He is savoring every moment of it. Because, when he gets home, he's going to lead a full and useful life. And that's the way he wants it.

Sirhan's Attorney May Rely On 'Disputed' Defense Tactic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan's attorney may rely on a little used and controversial defense tactic to try to reduce the penalty his client would face if convicted of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The 24-year-old Sirhan pleaded innocent to the murder charge Friday but attorney Russell E. Parsons reserved the right to make new motions within 35 days under California law. One option available is the defense of "diminished capacity," or partial insanity.

If employing this tactic, the defense would try to show through psychiatric evidence that because of a mental disease or defect the defendant could not form the specific intent, malice and premeditation required for conviction of first-degree murder.

Until 1949 California courts had ruled against the defense in the use of such a device, holding that insanity is either a full defense requiring a plea of innocent by reason of insanity, or no defense at all. Decisions since

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato told Japan today it could not turn its back on its obligations under the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

"No nation can hope to insure its national security without shouldering some burden," he said as he reminded his countrymen that under the treaty the United States assumes the defense of Japan in exchange for bases on Japanese soil.

He sharply rapped armed university students who in recent months have fought pitched battles with police in anti-American demonstrations related to the treaty.

Wallace Due Nomination

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Not one but two state conventions of the American Independent party convene today to nominate George C. Wallace for president.

The two conventions grew out of a dispute among Wallace supporters in California. "That's a sign of a healthy party, to have a little dissension," Wallace said when he arrived Friday night.

A result of the dispute could be selection of competing 40-member slates of presidential electors, with a court decision needed to choose the legal one.

Wallace addresses the convention his aides consider to be the "real one," the one attended by a number of the 60 American Independent party nominees for Congress and the legislature chosen in the June 4 primary.

The other convention was organized by William K. Shearer, who claims to be the state party chairman. He said there are 194 eligible delegates and all are invited to his convention. Shearer said these potential delegates include those chosen by county and state party committees.

Shearer, an early organizer of the party in California, said he'd had no communication with Wallace. "I have no ideas what his plans are. Certainly, he would be welcome if he cares to come to our convention."

Strikes Idle 4 Republic Steel Plants

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Strikes have idled a Republic Steel Corp. plant in Canton and three steel plants in the Warren area.

Some 3,500 Republic workers were off the job as a wildcat strike hit the 8th Street NE plant for the second day Friday. The walkout started Wednesday midnight. A back-to-work movement started Thursday, but picket lines were established again Thursday midnight.

Local issues which sparked the walkout were not disclosed. Company and union negotiators reached agreement on a new national contract in Pittsburgh Wednesday.

Idled by walkouts in the Warren area were the Tomas Strip Division of the Pittsburgh Steel Co., Copperweld Steel Co., and the Van Huffer Tube Division of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Sewage Permit Reminder Given Trailer Owners

LISBON — Dr. M. K. Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner, has reminded house trailer owners they must obtain a permit before connecting a trailer to a sewage disposal system.

Once the installation is made, the owner must call for an inspection by the health department's plumbing inspector. This regulation has been in effect since Sept. 1, 1966.

Dr. Singer said a $3 penalty will be added to the permit fee for those not obtaining a permit before beginning work. Those who do not comply may be prosecuted, he pointed out.

He has ordered the plumbing inspector to check all trailers that have been connected to sewage systems and, where no permit has been applied for previously, to demand that a permit be secured.

No more permits will be issued for trailer septic tanks unless the owner obtains a plumbing permit at the same time, Dr. Singer said.

Aliquippa Man Hurt In Accident

James Morrisette, 35, of 326 6th Ave., Aliquippa, was treated and released at Rochester General Hospital for lacerations of the upper lip received in an accident today at 2:10 a.m. on Route 168 in Shippingport.

The coupe driven by Morrisette struck the rear of a panel truck operated by Lloyd R. Ramsey, 48, of 115 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, who was halted at a stop sign on township Route 483.

Damage of $500 was estimated to the Morrisette auto and $200 to the Ramsey truck. The accident was investigated by state police from the Beaver Falls substation.

There were no citations.

Israel Seen Blocking U.N. Bid On Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel is blocking U.N. attempts to look into humanitarian problem growing out of the 1967 Middle East war, Secretary General U Thant reported Friday.

Israel's demand that U.N. envoy Miles Gussing look into the condition of Jewish communities in Arab countries is the main obstacle Thant indicated.

He said this was not part of an earlier Gussing mission and that broadening the scope of the mission means "there is no basis at present on which the mission could proceed."

The Israeli demand was not suggested at the time the resolutions of the General Assembly and Security Council called for an investigation of the treatment of Arabs in Israeli-held territory.

Car Plunges Off Highway, Man Unhurt

A 22-year-old Dixonville man escaped serious injury early this morning when his car plunged down a steep embankment along Park Way, while three women drivers were apparently unhurt in a Dresden Ave. collision Friday.

A 1966 convertible driven by Randall Cecil Stover of Dixonville was demolished when it veered over the embankment along Park Way near Broad St. about 4:11 a.m.

City police said Stover was headed north when the mishap occurred.

He told officers another vehicle rounded the curve on the wrong side of the highway and he swerved to avoid a crash.

The car skidded some 30 feet on soft soil and grass, then struck guardrails and a post and went over the embankment on the left side. Stover said the driver of the other auto did not stop.

Cars operated by Rebecca Lynn Priest, 17, of New Manchester, Dorothy A. Davis, 44, of 1745 Idaho Ave. and Elizabeth Mae Drumpus, 24, of 720 Daisy Ln. were involved in the mishap on Dresden Ave. at W. 9th St. about 2:33 p.m.

Officers said the Priest girl, driving a 1965 sedan, and the Davis woman, operating a 1963 coupe, were halted on Dresden, when the 1964 sedan driven by the Drumpus woman hit the Priest auto, knocking it into the other.

The Drumpus woman told police she was headed north on Dresden about 30 miles an hour, tried to stop for the cars ahead, but couldn't then tried to turn out around the Priest car, but couldn't, and her car struck the other.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

Photographs By Norma J. Liberatore

Sooner or later, a youngster learns that the tooth as well as the truth hurts. Freddy Liberatore of Tuscarawas Rd., Industry, recently awakened to discover this fact which had left him with a swollen jaw. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Liberatore, Freddy was hauled off to his dentist, Dr. Tom Bonfiglio of Midland, who popped in some penicillin and told him to wait a few days until the infection subsided. Then it was back to Dr.

Tom and a ceremony of separation after which Freddy was presented with his prize pain promoter. Freddy was a good patient, never let loose with a solitary tear or groan, and decided he would be more careful about how much candy he eats from now on.

Face To Face With The 'Villain.'

Vacations - Bah, Humbug!

By ROBERT POPP

THE NEWSPAPER EDITOR looked up from his desk with bloodshot eyes on a steaming hot summer afternoon and surveyed the desert of empty desks that stretched from wall to wall.

It was the height of the vacation season, but he was surprised to see only three animate figures in his domain. The society editor was busy handicapping the fourth at Aqueduct, and the sports editor, a usually somnolent creature unresponsive to all the day's alarms and excursions, had bolted into hectic activity to intercept and interview a teeny bopper who bounced into the room to announce her engagement.

At the city desk, a hump-backed figure in green eyeshade was scrawling frantically at virtually illegible copy, working without hope of ever eliminating the pile heaped under his nose.

He paused every few minutes to answer the telephone, meanwhile using a metal ruler to scratch the sensitive spot between his shoulder blades. Unopened mail was heaped at both elbows, along with shears, pastepot, a half-eaten doughnut and a paper cup full of virulent brown liquid that came out of the vending machine when he punched the button marked "coffee."

WITHOUT TAKING his eyes off the copy, the city editor reached for the brush in the paste pot, swabbed two pieces of copy together and then stuck the brush in the coffee cup, still without looking.

Four telephones were ringing simultaneously; the Teletype machines were clacking away monotonously and the wirephoto machine gave forth the mournful screech that meant it would quit functioning and begin smoking within the next three minutes.

The editor's phone rang and he scooped it up absently while continuing to study the near-deserted newsroom.

"There's a group of 47 Brownie Scouts here to tour the plant — they need a guide," the girl on the switchboard informed him. "There's a car with a South Dakota license plate in your parking place. Seventeen people are complaining because the paper's four minutes late. And your wife sent a telegram from Presque Isle asking you to send more money, her vacation has four more weeks to run. . . ."

You And The Law

Louie had just robbed the carry-out store. As he walked down a darkened alley, a voice commanded him to stop. "Empty your pockets," Sam growled from the darkness, "then get moving."

"Drop dead," Louie replied. "Don't argue, buster. I've got a gun on you — now move," Sam snarled.

Louie did as he was told. However, as he ran out of the alley he was confronted by a policeman and the owner of the carry-out he had just robbed.

"That's him officer! That's the guy who robbed me!" the store owner yelled.

policeman said. "Things look suspicious."

"That's the bum who robbed me!" Louie cried. "Check him. I'll bet he's got the money on him."

Sure enough, Sam had a sack marked "Fred's Carry-Out" containing $100.

"I'm arresting both of you on the charge of robbery," one policeman said.

"How can you arrest me," Sam asked. "That money was stolen. Arrest Louie. He stole it in the first place."

Who stole what? In a recent case in another state, it was held that a robber who took money from another person — even though that money was itself stolen — could be held on a charge of robbery. Sam had broken the law just as much as Louie, the court ruled.

HE SLAMMED down the phone with a curse and went back to writing an editorial about self-control and sensible planning, the need for governmental agencies to look into the future, estimate needs wisely and not be thrown off balance by little emergencies.

As he swung his chair away from his desk, he discovered the society editor was on the phone with the bookie, the sports editor and the teeny bopper were headed out the door arm-in-arm, presumably for the marriage license bureau, and the city editor still was plodding through the early copy for the next day's paper.

The Teletypes still clacked, the wirephoto machine had stopped whining and begun smoking and four more telephones were ringing.

The tops of the empty desks gleamed, the typewriters were covered and silent. The office bulletin board was plastered with gaily-colored postcards mailed by staff members on vacation in the Maine Woods, Florida, the Big Bend Country of Texas, the Atlantic coast and Devils Tower, Wyo.

Secretaries hurried in with more mail. Mellow barroom customers telephoned with questions about Walter Johnson, Ducky Medwick, Red Grange, Little Jack Little, the Lone Ranger, the electoral college, the balance of payments deficit and the color of Lyndon Johnson's eyes.

VISITORS STRAGGLED in with stories of 4-H Club meetings, Ruritan minstrel shows, Rotary clam-bakes, servicemen's promotions, relatives' funerals, outsize pumpkins, lost dogs, two-month-old weddings, christenings, confirmations and benefit square dances. Others asked about lost photos, missing relatives, traffic accidents, recipes, apron patterns and Ann Landers' home address.

The wirephoto machine erupted with a blast, showering sparks and paper shreds. A dense cloud of smoke wafted toward the ceiling.

"Everybody takes a month off!" he shouted to the vacant newsroom. "We'll do what they've always done in the television business. For the next 30 days, we'll publish summer reruns of last winter's newspaper."

Side Glances

Stamps In The News

Walt Disney, who devoted his life to the entertainment of children, is surrounded by youngsters on a new U.S. 6-cent commemorative stamp to be issued Sept. 11.

The new stamp will feature a parade of children, hand-in-hand, emerging from a tiny castle circling a portrait of Disney. The children, from many nations of the world, are attired in native costume.

The place of issuance on Sept. 11 will be Marceline, Mo., where Disney spent his early boyhood. Two staff members of Walt Disney Productions were responsible for the stamps. The designer was C. Robert Moore who also supplied the procession of children. Paul E. Wenzel painted the Disney portrait.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Marceline, Mo. 64658. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 6c Walt Disney Stamp." Requests must be postmarked no later than Sept. 11.

Collectors of Irish stamps will be glad to know that a well-illustrated new book entitled "The Story of Eire and Her Stamps" has been published. The book is by James A. Mackay and can be obtained directly from H. E. Lindquist Publications Inc., 153 Waverly Pl., New York, N. Y. 10014. The price is $3 postpaid.

In Papua and New Guinea this privilege is new—a product of this decade. To hail this system of universal suffrage, the territory has issued two new stamps with symbolic designs, reports the Department of Posts and Telegraphs.

Balloted elections were held the first time in 1964 and adult men and women who were residents of the territory were able to vote regardless of race, sex, literacy or location. This year, despite the rugged terrain, electoral teams traveled by foot, canoe, helicopter and plane to collect the votes.

Collectors desiring stamps of the territory may obtain their philatelic order forms directly by writing to the Philatelic Bureau Port Moresby, Papua and New Guinea.

The world's "largest capacity" album — H. E. Harris & Co.'s Citation World Wide Masterwork Stamp Album — is now off the presses. It contains 1,504 pages and retails for $17.95.

The 1968 Citation has been completely revised and enlarged. Every stamp-issuing country and colony of the world is represented. Spaces are provided for more than 75,000 stamps. More than 40,000 clear illustrations make stamp identification easy. Newest issues to 1968 are included. The Citation also has a new world stamp map in colors, world stamp finder, U.S. stamp identifier and collector's dictionary.

The 1968 album can be purchased directly from H. E. Harris & Co., Box SA, Boston, Mass. 02117.

Belgium has issued three new semipostals in its "Calamities" series. The 10 francs plus 5 depicts an explosion, 12 fr plus 5 shows a fire tragedy, and the 13 fr plus 5, windstorm. The additional values on the stamps go to the relief fund for victims of such calamities.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

Photographs By Norma J. Liberatore

Sooner or later, a youngster learns that the tooth as well as the truth hurts. Freddy Liberatore of Tuscarawas Rd., Industry, recently awakened to discover this fact which had left him with a swollen jaw. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Liberatore, Freddy was hauled off to his dentist, Dr. Tom Bonfiglio of Midland, who popped in some penicillin and told him to wait a few days until the infection subsided. Then it was back to Dr.

Tom and a ceremony of separation after which Freddy was presented with his prize pain promoter. Freddy was a good patient, never let loose with a solitary tear or groan, and decided he would be more careful about how much candy he eats from now on.

Vacations-Bah, Humbug!

By ROBERT POPP

THE NEWSPAPER EDITOR looked up from his desk with bloodshot eyes on a steaming hot summer afternoon and surveyed the desert of empty desks that stretched from wall to wall.

It was the height of the vacation season, but he was surprised to see only three animate figures in his domain. The society editor was busy handicapping the fourth at Aqueduct, and the sports editor, a usually somnolent creature unresponsive to all the day's alarms and excursions, had bolted into hectic activity to intercept and interview a teeny bopper who bounced into the room to announce her engagement.

At the city desk, a hump-backed figure in green eyeshade was scrawling frantically at virtually illegible copy, working without hope of ever eliminating the pile heaped under his nose.

He paused every few minutes to answer the telephone, meanwhile using a metal rule to scratch the sensitive spot between his shoulder blades. Unopened mail was heaped at both elbows, along with shears, pastepot, a half-eaten doughnut and a paper cup full of virulent brown liquid that came out of the vending machine when he punched the button marked "coffee."

WITHOUT TAKING his eyes off the copy, the city editor reached for the brush in the paste pot, swabbed two pieces of copy together and then stuck the brush in the coffee cup, still without looking.

Four telephones were ringing simultaneously; the Teletype machines were clacking away monotonously and the wirephoto machine gave forth the mournful screech that meant it would quit functioning and begin smoking within the next three minutes.

The editor's phone rang and he scooped it up absently while continuing to study the near-deserted newsroom.

"There's a group of 47 Brownie Scouts here to tour the plant — they need a guide," the girl on the switchboard informed him. "There's a car with a South Dakota license plate in your parking place. Seventeen people are complaining because the paper's four minutes late. And your wife sent a telegram from Presque Isle asking you to send more money, her vacation has four more weeks to run. . . ."

HE SLAMMED down the phone with a curse and went back to writing an editorial about self-control and sensible planning, the need for governmental agencies to look into the future, estimate needs wisely and not be thrown off balance by little emergencies.

As he swung his chair away from his desk, he discovered the society editor was on the phone with the bookie, the sports editor and the teeny bopper were headed out the door arm-in-arm, presumably for the marriage license bureau, and the city editor still was plodding through the early copy for the next day's paper.

The Teletypes still clacked, the wirephoto machine had stopped whining and begun smoking and four more telephones were ringing.

The tops of the empty desks gleamed, the typewriters were covered and silent. The office bulletin board was plastered with gaily-colored postcards mailed by staff members on vacation in the Maine Woods, Florida, the Big Bend Country of Texas, the Atlantic coast and Devils Tower, Wyo.

Secretaries hurried in with more mail. Mellow barroom customers telephoned with questions about Walter Johnson, Ducky Medwick, Red Grange, Little Jack Little, the Lone Ranger, the electoral college, the balance of payments deficit and the color of Lyndon Johnson's eyes.

VISITORS STRAGGLED in with stories of 4-H Club meetings, Ruritan minstrel shows, Rotary clam-bakes, servicemen's promotions, relatives' funerals, outsize pumpkins, lost dogs, two-month-old weddings, christenings, confirmations and benefit square dances. Others asked about lost photos, missing relatives, traffic accidents, recipes, apron patterns and Ann Landers' home address.

The wirephoto machine erupted with a blast, showering sparks and paper shreds. A dense cloud of smoke wafted toward the ceiling.

"Everybody takes a month off!" he shouted to the vacant newsroom. "We'll do what they've always done in the television business. For the next 30 days, we'll publish summer reruns of last winter's newspaper."

Side Glances

"Let's have an optimistic smile coupled with a look of grave concern for our country's problems!"

'And your wife called from Presque Isle, says she needs more vacation money . . .'

You And The Law

Louie had just robbed the carry-out store. As he walked down a darkened alley, a voice commanded him to stop. "Empty your pockets," Sam growled from the darkness, "then get moving."

"Drop dead," Louie replied. "Don't argue, buster. I've got a gun on you — now move," Sam snarled.

Louie did as he was told. However, as he ran out of the alley he was confronted by a policeman and the owner of the carry-out he had just robbed.

policeman said. "Things look suspicious."

"That's the bum who robbed me!" Louie cried. "Check him. I'll bet he's got the money on him."

Sure enough, Sam had a sack marked "Fred's Carry-Out" containing $100.

"I'm arresting both of you on the charge of robbery," one policeman said.

"How can you arrest me," Sam asked. "That money was stolen. Arrest Louie. He stole it in the first place."

Who stole what? In a recent case in another state, it was held that a robber who took money from another person — even though that money was itself stolen — could be held on a charge of robbery. Sam had broken the law just as much as Louie, the court ruled.

MAX, THE NEW BEAGLE HOUND at the Stewart household, is dead — killed in a very sadistic manner.

Max was run down by a car — while standing on the sidewalk. The driver was then observed to stop the car, turn around for a look, and putting it in reverse, back the vehicle over the body again.

This occurred last week in front of my home and was witnessed by two neighbors. They heard the tires squeal as the car, bearing Pennsylvania license plates, swerved onto the sidewalk to hit the dog.

Max was given to me by a friend in Lisbon about six weeks ago. He was an extremely shy hound, about nine months old. But, it didn't take him too long to begin warming to the care of the children.

How he got loose from his chain is a mystery. But, young pups have a way of doing things that are surprising.

Max had already started running rabbits, and I had high hopes for him. Had he been killed while running across the highway, I wouldn't have thought much of it. I can understand how difficult it is for a motorist to break suddenly to avoid an animal. I would rather see the animal killed than the car wrecked and the occupants possibly injured.

HOWEVER, I will never understand what reason there can be for wantonly killing any species of animal in this manner. If it is to watch them suffer, then this man got his desire, for Max ran a few yards after being hit the second time and crawled under a parked truck to die.

Although I have hunted since I was old enough to carry a gun, I was always raised under a different code. I do not like to wound an animal, always hoping for a quick, clean kill. And I do not kill more than I can possibly use — this is a waste.

There are times when animals must be destroyed because of illness, old age or because they have become destructive. This is a necessity. But again it should be done as quickly as possible.

I have spent much time searching for wounded game, giving up hunting time in the field, simply because I did not want to leave the animal to die a slow, painful death.

It hurts to lose a pet, more so in the manner in which Max died. Since the incident, I have talked with several persons who have commented they have seen motorists almost wreck their automobiles in efforts to hit dogs, cats or any small animal near the highway.

Strange, isn't it, that sportsmen using guns are being called "killers," while those who do all sorts of acts of violence for "kicks" are considered poor, misguided souls who shouldn't be persecuted because of their "rights."

THROW THEM BACK. Four persons have been arrested for illegal possession of bass from Highlandtown Lake.

Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, says he plans to continue prosecution of anyone caught keeping bass or muskellunge caught from Highlandtown.

There's no excuse for anyone keeping these fish. At the entrance to both parking lots at the lake there are large signs explaining the special regulations governing fishing. Both explain very clearly that bass and muskellunge must be returned to the water — dead or alive — until September 1969.

Several fishermen also have commented that several persons have been observed ripping the hooks from bass caught. Others tossed the bass way out into the water instead of releasing it gently.

Rough treatment will kill some of these fish and the more fish lost, the less enjoyment for all. Be careful how you handle them. It is better to leave the hook if it is deeply imbedded in the throat or gill of the fish. The acid in the fish's body will eat away the hook, but if it is torn out, the bass probably will die.

TROPHY FISH. Tom Rose, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rose of Lisbon St. Ext., landed a 34 pound, 47 inch amberjack while fishing off Daytona, Fla., July 8.

Tom, who will be an East Liverpool High School sophomore this fall, was awarded a citation by the Daytona Beach Resort Area Fishing Association for his catch.

He and his parents were on the Bacardi IV, a charter boat from Timmons Fishing Camp, about 25 miles out when they hit into the school of amberjacks.

Mrs. Rose almost tied her son's catch. They also caught king mackerel, dolphins, bonito and one barracuda.

Tom says he thinks this kind of fishing is just great. He is having the fish mounted.

RADICALS SPOON FED? Yale University psychologist believes great tendency exists to see anyone who is critical of establishment as psychologically disturbed, a loser, a re-

His big point is that the rebels aren't really "spitting on their parents" but do derive much of their idealism at home. His thesis is based upon study of selected subjects. POP GOES POP! A new study claims that mom isn't a teen's greatest enemy after all. She who has been blamed for the last 30 years for stunting her kids and emasculating her husband is reprieved. Now sociologists and psychologists are turning on dad, poor dad — say he prevents daughter from having normal relationships with men because of his overprotectiveness. He's blamed for having misbehaving sons because he isn't home enough to really know them and create a proper father image. The term "pop" is used to differentiate between a bad male parent and "father," a good male parent. So hang on, we are obviously in for 30 years of putting down pop. Are we ready for that? Or have we become tired of the orgy of "blame" that teens and parents have "enjoyed" for these last few turbulent years? Some authorities feel that assigning blame is so pointless since no one is blameless — now is the time to try to communicate.

East Liverpool Edges Mon-Yough 2-1 In 11 Innings, Meets Austintown-Girard As Colt Tourney Continues

McVay's Single Nets Both Runs

BY TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The year of the pitcher, so evident in the major leagues, has filtered down to the Colt League level, especially as far as East Liverpool and the Mon-Yough all-stars are concerned.

The two teams battled 10 scoreless innings before the home club edged the Pennsylvania aggregation 2-1 in 11 innings in the dusk at the Colt League Field last night.

East Liverpool will play Austintown - Girard, which had to go eight innings to nip the Eastern Ohio All-Stars 4-3, at 2 p.m. today, while the two losers battled at 10 a.m.

The double-elimination regional Colt League tournament will continue at 5:45 today with the winner of the first game meeting the loser of the second game. The unbeaten team plays the survivor of the third game at 2 p.m. tomorrow, a double-header if necessary.

Hap Palmer of East Liverpool, who pitched on the Richmond entry during the season and who attends Steubenville Central, and Dick Swinchock of Mon-Yough both pitched superbly for seven innings, all they are allowed in one game under Colt League rules. Their successors, winner Kim Kemple and loser Dan Flowers, each added three blanks before both teams broke through in a thrilling finish.

PALMER HAD a no-hitter until two out in the fifth, when Ricky Booth laid down a perfect bunt to the third base side of the pitcher's mound and beat it out for the only hit off the red-headed lefty. Twice Mon-Yough, which represents the Monongahela Valley towns of Donora, California, Monongahela and Elrama, threatened to score without a hit. In the fourth Booth was hit by a pitch and went all the way to third on a sacrifice to third by Robby Nagy. But Palmer caught clean-up hitter Denny Simon looking a called third strike and John Radic grounded out to end the frame.

East Liverpool's only two errors of the game got Palmer in hot water in the last of the seventh. Simon was safe when Joe March dropped his fly to left, and took second when Palmer threw wildly on a pickoff attempt. Simon had to hold at second as Radic grounded out, but stole third when catcher Mike Smith attempted a pick-off at second base. Freddy Pasag was intentionally walked and pinch-hitter Chris Cross fanned.

East Liverpool had a scoring chance right off the bat. Lehman Pearson, the Wellsville Speedster, walked. Swinchock, like Palmer a lefty, picked Pearson off, but in the rundown a wild throw went into the stands and Pearson was awarded third. It proved to be the only Mon-Yough error of the game. Swinchock, who amazed 12 strikeouts, got March on a 3-2 count, and Pearson was thrown out trying to score on a grounder by Kemple.

THE LOCALS didn't get a runner past first again until the seventh, when Randy McVay and Smith singled. But Palmer fled out to end the threat. Vic Reed led off the ninth with a double, but was thrown out trying to take third on a bounce back to the mound.

In the 11th Flowers turned wild, and this proved to be his downfall. Kemple walked and was forced by Cecil Barker. The Jefferson Union standout stole second. Reed walked and both players moved up on a wild pitch. McVay bounced a single up the middle to score both runners and it appeared the ball game was wrapped up.

But Mon-Yough got to a tying Kemple in the bottom half of the inning, and only some bad baserunning preserved the East Liverpool victory. Jerry Miesky hit a line - drive to center. In the gathering twilight Scott Dubberly misjudged the ball, and it got over his head. Miesky attempted to

Northside, Midland Win In Tourney

Northside A. C. of East Liverpool and Midland will square off tonight for the championship of the first Midland Little League tournament.

Dick Chema put the East Liverpool nine in the finals on a neat one - hitter to defeat Highlandtown, 2-1 Friday night. Chema fanned 12 batters. Gene Furbee was the losing pitcher and gave up six hits. Chema also was the hitting star with three hits in three trips.

Northside scored both of its runs in the fourth inning. Midland gained the finals on a 7-3 victory over Freedom.

make third, but was cut down on a strong relay by second-baseman Reed to McVay.

Booth then sliced a double to right and Nagy scratched a hit off Reed's glove. Simon hit a long drive to center that first appeared might be gone for a game - winning home run, but Dubberly raced back and made a great catch at the wall, with Booth scoring on the sacrifice fly. Kemple threw out Radic to end the ball game.

MIKE SMITH suffered a torn nail when hit by Simon's foul tip in the 11th.

Another injury occurred in the first game when Chris White slid home with the winning run for Austintown-Girard, twisting his ankle. White was on second with two out when Lou Cline hit a grounder to short. Eddy Burgy, who had pitched a strong six innings and hit a homer to boot, was now at short and tried to get White at third. His throw was wild and White was able to get home just before the third baseman's recovery throw.

The Eastern Ohio All-Stars, representing the Martins Ferry-Bellaire area, took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first when Ricky Tobin, who had singled, and Andy Dorris, who had walked, scored on a throw into left field by pitcher Jim Altemus, trying to get Tobin at third on a grounder by Gary Kreichbaum. Kreichbaum took third on the play, but was out when a suicide squeeze failed with Burgy at bat. Burgy doubled and took third with two out in the fourth, and slammed a drive just barely fair and just barely over the fence in left to make it 3-1 in the sixth, but aside from this Eastern Ohio didn't come close to scoring the rest of the game.

Austintown - Girard got an unearned run off Burgy in the fourth when Bill Johnson singled and took third when catcher Dorris threw into right field trying to pick him off. A base hit by White, the first of three for the Austintown clean - up hitter, plated Johnson.

The Youngstown area team tied the score in the sixth on singles by Joe Zablosky, White, Vern Woods and a fielder's choice. Andy Rochow came on to pitch the eighth and get the win, while Mike Dowling took the loss.

Holtzman allowed just two singles in boosting his record to Houston snapped a three-game losing streak and sent Philadelphia to its sixth straight loss when Doug Rader doubled home Jim Wynn with the tying run and then scored the winner on John Bateman's single in the eighth inning.

Pittsburgh got only four hits off Gaylord Perry but made a pair of tainted runs count. With two out in the third, Maury Wills walked, advanced on a passed ball and scored on Willie McCovey's error. In the fifth, Jerry May tripled and came home on a wild pitch.

Willie Mays hit his 14th homer and his first since July 12 for San Francisco. Willie Stargell clouted his 20th for Pittsburgh.

The Mets snapped a five-game losing streak when they broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning on run-scoring singles by Ron Swoboda and Jerry Grote. Len Gabrielson homered for Los Angeles in the eighth.

All-Stars Dent Scoring Column But Lose, 34-17

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars didn't win Friday night against the Green Bay Packers but they managed to score both against the Packers and for the pro teams for whom they will play.

The final score in the 35th annual midsummer football classic was 34-17 in favor of Green Bay.

It was an unprecedented fifth straight loss for the All-Stars in the series but it left the pros licking their chops waiting for their new draft choices to arrive.

It also produced a chink in their Green Bay armor — you can run against the Packers.

For the first time in three years an All-Star team dented the scoring column against the Packers.

Larry Csonka, the Syracuse All-American headed for the Miami Dolphins, turned out to be the game's leading ground gainer while the passing duo of Grey Landry and Earl McCulloch, both headed for the Detroit Lions, proved itself ready for pro football.

"You can't take a bunch of kids, no matter how good they are, and teach them pass defense in three weeks against Green Bay," said Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We got action out of the boys but couldn't get the execution," said Van Brocklin. "But we proved again that a team can run against the Packers."

The Stars, a 17-point underdog, proved it by gaining 225 yards rushing against the Packers with Csonka netting 95 yards in 18 carries for a 5.3 average.

But in the long run it was Packer passing superiority, spearheaded by Bart Starr and culminated by Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale that proved the undoing of the Stars before a crowd of 69,917.

Starr completed touchdown passes on 20, 36 and 13 yards to Dale, and in between he used Dowler and Elijah Pitts as receivers in setting up Green Bay's scoring arsenal.

Both All-Star touchdowns came in the second half on fourth-down plays and were passes to McCulloch.

Gary Beban of UCLA headed for the Washington Redskins, clicked to the Southern California speedster with a seven-yard strike in the third quarter. Landry, a Massachusetts product, hit McCulloch with a 24-yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter.

Bengals Make Grid Debut Against KC

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quarterback John Stofa was set to launch the Cincinnati Bengals against the formidable Kansas City Chiefs tonight at Nippert Stadium in Cincinnati.

Game time was scheduled for 8 p.m. A full house of approximately 30,000 was expected to witness the exhibition opener.

The Bengals, newest club of the American Football League, are a combination of rookies just out of college and players obtained from other AFL clubs in the expansion draft. They have been training at Wilmington College since early July.

Bengals Coach Paul Brown, who sat out the last five years after compiling an amazing 33-year record of 296 victories against 75 defeats and 15 ties, has been both optimistic and pessimistic about his second gridiron "debut" since he left the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

He is optimistic about a lot of the talent he has on hand but has warned that Cincinnati probably can expect some lean years until the rookies gain pro experience.

Olympic Boycott Leader Claims Fight Not Over

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Harry Edwards, who freely admits that everything he says shouldn't be believed, claims the Olympic boycott movement is far from dead. He also says that he might soon cause some trouble for a couple of National Football League teams.

Edwards, leader of the Negro Olympic boycott movement, said Friday that contradictory statements made this week about the boycott by sprinter Lee Evans were just a sample of the confusion he has in mind for the U.S. Olympic Committee.

"I wouldn't believe what any black athlete says," the former sociology instructor at San Jose state told a news conference.

"I wouldn't even believe what I say. Right after this, I'm going to call another press conference to answer myself," Edwards added in jest.

Evans, world record holder at 400 yards, was quoted early in the week that the Olympic boycott was off and that he and other black athletes had voted to go to the Mexico City Games in October. Later, he said he never made the statements.

"Evans was instructed to make the statement," said Edwards, "then he was instructed to deny it."

Evans, sitting next to Edwards, confirmed that he had made both statements and added, "The boycott is on."

"Our whole strategy now," said Edwards is to create an atmosphere of chaos for the U.S. Olympic Committee. We will make statements one day and

The Stars, a 17-point underdog, proved it by gaining 225 yards rushing against the Packers with Csonka netting 95 yards in 18 carries for a 5.3 average.

But in the long run it was Packer passing superiority, spearheaded by Bart Starr and culminated by Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale that proved the undoing of the Stars before a crowd of 69,917.

Starr completed touchdown passes on 20, 36 and 13 yards to Dale, and in between he used Dowler and Elijah Pitts as receivers in setting up Green Bay's scoring arsenal.

Both All-Star touchdowns came in the second half on fourth-down plays and were passes to McCullough.

Gary Beban of UCLA headed for the Washington Redskins, clicked to the Southern California speedster with a seven-yard strike in the third quarter. Landry, a Massachusetts product, hit McCullough with a 24-yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter.

Bengals Make Grid Debut Against KC

CINCINNATI (AP) — Quarterback John Stofa was set to launch the Cincinnati Bengals against the formidable Kansas City Chiefs tonight at Nippert Stadium in Cincinnati.

Game time was scheduled for 8 p.m. A full house of approximately 30,000 was expected to witness the exhibition opener.

The Bengals, newest club of the American Football League, are a combination of rookies just out of college and players obtained from other AFL clubs in the expansion draft. They have been training at Wilmington College since early July.

Bengals Coach Paul Brown, who sat out the last five years after compiling an amazing 33-year record of 296 victories against 75 defeats and 15 ties, has been both optimistic and pessimistic about his second gridiron "debut" since he left the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

He is optimistic about a lot of the talent he has on hand but has warned that Cincinnati probably can expect some lean years until the rookies gain pro experience.

4 Pro Grid Exhibitions Slated Today

By HERSCHEL NISSONSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Phil Bengtson has made a winning debut with the Green Bay Packers. Paul Brown, Jim Dooley and Dick Nolan hope to follow suit today with the Cincinnati Bengals, Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers.

The world champion Packers made Bengtson's first game as Vince Lombardi's coaching replacement a success Friday night with a 34-7 rout of the College All-Stars before 69,917 in Chicago.

Bart Starr threw touchdown passes of 30, 36 and 13 yards to Carroll Dale but the All-Stars salvaged their pride by breaking into the scoring column after two years of shutouts at the hands of the Packers.

Four more exhibition games are on tap today.

Brown, who sat out the last five seasons after a glamorous career with the Cleveland Browns, leads his fledgling Bengals, pro football's newest team, in an American Football League exhibition tonight against the Kansas City Chiefs. A full house of 30,000 is expected at the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium, where the Bengals will play until their new stadium is completed.

The collection of rookies and players obtained in the expansion draft will go against Kansas City, with veteran John St. Clair, acquired in a trade with Miami, at quarterback. His chief target will be Warren McVea, a rookie from the University of Houston, who has been switched from halfback to end because of his blinding speed.

In other night games, the Baltimore Colts are at Oakland and the 49ers visit San Diego for NFL-AFL tests. The Bears and Dallas Cowboys of the NFL tangle in an afternoon contest, the annual Hall of Fame Game at Canton, Ohio.

Dooley, a player and assistant coach for the Bears since 1952, has taken over from aging owner George Halas, who coached the team off-and-on for 32 seasons.

The following all-time greats will be inducted into the Hall of Fame during weekend ceremonies: Cliff Battles, Art Donovan, Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, Wayne Miller, Marion Motley, Charlie Trippi and Alex Wojciechowicz.

Quarterbacks Johnny Unitas of the Colts and Daryle Lamoni of the AFL champion Raiders are expected to put on a show before an expected crowd of 53,000 in Oakland. Nolan, San Francisco's new coach, will look over a quarterbacking trio of John Brodie, George Mira and Steve Spurrier against the Chargers.

Records Fall In AAU Swim Competition

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Santa Clara's Mark Spitz ended the reign of teammate Don Schollander in the 200-meter freestyle and Eadie Wetzel of Wilmette, Ill., set a women's world 200 freestyle record of 2:08.8 Friday night in the AAU Swimming Nationals.

Three world marks, three meet records and an American club mark have been smashed in the meet, with 16 events and two days to go. The top eight in each event qualify for the Olympic Trials.

In almost every event, youngsters are taking over from the veterans. Miss Wetzel, 15, with a previous career best of 2:11.4, was pushed by Debbie Meyer, also 15, of Sacramento, Calif., who also beat the old world mark with 2:09.3. Miss Meyer's teammate, 14-year-old Sue Pedersen, held the pending world mark of 2:09.5, set in a relay four weeks ago.

"Did I expect a record?—Oh, gosh no," Miss Wetzel said.

Miss Pedersen, who pushed Debbie to a world 200 freestyle mark Thursday night, came back to edge the world record holder, 18-year-old Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, for the 400 individual medley crown in 5:10.3.

Gary Hall, a 5-foot-10, 150-pound junior from Garden Grove, Calif., edged Greg Buckingham, 23 and 6-4, to win the men's 400 medley in 4:48.0. Hall missed his pending world mark of 4:43.4.

The 18-year-old Spitz took the 200 in excellent time of 1:57.0 and admitted he was so worried about Schollander's famous finish that he forgot all about a Canadian Ralph Hutton, four lanes to his right.

Hutton was second by an eyelash in 1:57.1.

Six Shooters Named Trap Immortals

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Six shooters who are legends with the trapgun have been named to the new Trapshooting Hall of Fame which will open soon here.

Also among the original selections for the hall are three men who have made outstanding contributions to trapshooting. The nine selected will be inducted in ceremonies during the Grand American Trapshoot which starts Aug. 19.

The shooters, all deceased, include two women, the incomparable Annie Oakley from Greenville, Ohio, and Mrs. Ad "Plinky" Topperwein of San Antonio, Tex.

Other shooters selected were Rollo "Pop" Heikes, Dayton; J. A. R. Elliott; Tom Marshall, and Capt. A. W. Carver.

Those being inducted primarily because of their contribution to trapshooting are George Ligowski, Cincinnati, inventor of the original clay target; Fred Kimble, who invented the composition target under the trade name of Peoria Blackbird; and Elmer Shaner, known as the father of organized trapshooting.

AWOL Marine Is Charged With Slaying Woman

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A 19-year-old Marine, absent without official leave since last Sept. 2, has been charged with first-degree murder in the beating death last year of Mrs. Cora Knapp.

Police said Lance Cpl. Donald F. Elder of Greensburg, Pa., was charged Friday with the hammer slaying of Mrs. Knapp, 57, at her apartment here last Sept. 9.

Two Marines took Elder into custody at Meadville, Pa., Thursday after he was picked up by state police when they stopped a car he was riding in for a routine check.

Elder was being held in Cleveland on a charge of being AWOL when he was charged with Mrs. Knapp's murder. He is expected to be handed over to Sandusky police today.

Police said Elder, formerly of Sandusky, was home on leave when Mrs. Knapp, who lived near him, was found slain.

4 Pro Grid Exhibitions Slated Today

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Phil Bengtson has made a winning debut with the Green Bay Packers. Dick Nolan hope to follow suit today with the Cincinnati Bengals, Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers.

The world champion Packers made Bengtson's first game as Vince Lombardi's coaching replacement a success Friday night with a 34-17 rout of the College All-Stars before 69,917 in Chicago.

Bart Starr threw touchdown passes of 30, 36 and 13 yards to Carroll Dale but the All-Stars salvaged their pride by breaking into the scoring column after two years of shutouts at the hands of the Packers.

Four more exhibition games are on tap today.

Brown, who sat out the last five seasons after a glamorous career with the Cleveland Browns, leads his fledgling Bengals, pro football's newest team, in an American Football League exhibition tonight against the Kansas City Chiefs. A full house of 30,000 is expected at the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium, where the Bengals will play until their new stadium is completed.

The collection of rookies and players obtained in the expansion draft will go against Kansas City, with veteran John Stofa, acquired in a trade with Miami, at quarterback. McVea, a rookie from the University of Houston, who has been switched from halfback to end because of his blinding speed.

In other night games, the Baltimore Colts are at Oakland and the 49ers visit San Diego for NFL-AFL tests. The Bears and Dallas Cowboys of the NFL tangle in an afternoon contest, the annual Hall of Fame Game at Canton, Ohio.

Dooley, a player and assistant coach for the Bears since 1952, has taken over from aging owner George Halas, who coached the team off-and-on for 32 seasons.

The following all-time greats will be inducted into the Hall of Fame during weekend ceremonies: Cliff Battles, Art Donovan, Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, Wayne Miller, Marion Motley, Charlie Trippi and Alex Wojciechowski.

Quarterbacks Johnny Unitas of the Colts and Daryle Lamoni of the AFL champion Raiders are expected to put on a show before an expected crowd of 53,000 in Oakland. Nolan, San Francisco's new coach, will look over a quarterbacking trio of John Brodie, George Mira and Steve Spurrier against the Chargers.

Plane Strikes Vegas

Sign, Pilot Killed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A small plane struck an apartment building Friday night, crashed through the roof of the nearby Las Vegas convention center, killing the pilot.

Authorities found a wing lodged in a revolving "L" sign atop the landmark tower, which house businesses and a casino that hasn't yet opened for business. Wreckage was strewn about the convention center 100 yards away, where the only occupant was a guard.

Quake Hits Mexico, At Least Four Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An earthquake struck Mexico City and a wide area of the country Friday, leaving at least four persons dead, scores injured and an estimated $2.4 million in damages.

The 72-second quake was the worst to hit this one-and-a-half mile high city in 11 years.

Hardest hit in the capital was a nine-story office building on Insurgentes Avenue that was left leaning crazily. Police said the structure and nine others would have to be demolished because they might collapse.

Records Fall In AAU Swim Competition

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Santa Clara's Mark Spitz ended the reign of teammate Don Scholander in the 200-meter freestyle and Eadie Wetzel of Wilmette, Ill., set a women's world 200 freestyle record of 2:08.8 Friday night in the AAU Swimming Nationals.

Three world marks, three meet records and an American club mark have been smashed in the meet, with 16 events and two days to go. The top eight in each event qualify for the Olympic Trials.

In almost every event, youngsters are taking over from the veterans. Miss Wetzel, 15, was pushed by Debbie Meyer, also 15, of Sacramento, Calif., who also beat the old world mark with 2:09.3. Miss Meyer's teammate, 14-year-old Sue Pedersen, held the pending world mark of 2:09.5, set in a relay four weeks ago.

"Did I expect a record?—Oh, gosh no," Miss Wetzel said.

Miss Pedersen, who pushed Debbie to a world 200 freestyle mark Thursday night, came back to edge the world record holder, 18-year-old Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, for the 400 individual medley crown in 5:10.3.

Gary Hall, a 5-foot-10, 150-pound junior from Garden Grove, Calif., edged Greg Buckingham, 23 and 6-4, to win the men's 400 medley in 4:48.0. Hall missed his pending world mark of 4:43.4.

The 18-year-old Spitz took the 200 in excellent time of 1:57.0, and admitted he was so worried about Scholander's famous finish that he forgot all about Canadian Ralph Hutton, four lanes to his right.

Hutton was second by an eyelash in 1:57.1.

Six Shooters Named Trap Immortals

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Six shooters who are legends with the trapgun have been named to the new Trapshooting Hall of Fame which will open soon here.

Also among the original selections for the hall are three men who have made outstanding contributions to trapshooting. The nine selected will be inducted in ceremonies during the Grand American Trapshoot which starts Aug. 19.

The shooters, all deceased, include two women, the incomparable Annie Oakley from Greenville, Ohio, and Mrs. Ad "Pinky" Topperwein of San Antonio, Tex.

Other shooters selected were Rollo "P" Heikes, Dayton; J. A. R. Elliott; Tom Marshall, and Capt. A. W. Carver. Those being inducted primarily because of their contributions to trapshooting are George Ligowski, Cincinnati, inventor of the original clay target; Fred Kimble, who invented the composition target under the trade name of Peoria Blackbird, and Elmer Shaner, known as the father of organized trapshooting.

AWOL Marine Is Charged With Slaying Woman

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A 19-year-old Marine, absent without official leave since last Sept. 2, has been charged with first-degree murder in the beating death last year of Mrs. Cora Knapp.

Police said Lance Cpl. Donald F. Elder of Greensburg, Pa., was charged Friday with the hammer slaying of Mrs. Knapp, 57, at her apartment here last Sept. 9.

Two Marines took Elder into custody at Meadville, Pa., Thursday after he was picked up by state police when they stopped a car he was riding in for a routine check.

Elder was being held in Cleveland on a charge of being AWOL when he was charged with Mrs. Knapp's murder. He is expected to be handed over to Sandusky police today.

Police said Elder, formerly of Sandusky, was home on leave when Mrs. Knapp, who lived near him, was found slain.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Mouth Ailments Can Be Cured

Q—What causes cracks at the corners of the mouth? Can they be cured?

A—Common causes include a deficiency of riboflavin or niacin and various infections, especially with a fungus called Candida albicans. For the former, vitamin B complex is a specific cure and, for the latter, a lotion containing amphotericin B, a prescription drug, should do the trick.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—What would cause excessive dryness in my mouth? I drink plenty of fluids during the day and do not sleep with my mouth open.

A—Belladonna, rauwolfia serpentina and their derivatives may cause dry mouth. Other causes in addition to the two you mentioned are lack of moisture in the indoor air (especially in the bedroom), excessive smoking in one who has been a heavy smoker for many years, a deficiency of vitamin A or B and chronic rhinitis. Removing the cause is the only way to get lasting relief but, while you are waiting, you may get some relief by chewing gum around in your mouth.

Q—What is the best remedy for dry lips? I have tried several preparations but they only make my lips greasy and within 10 minutes they are dry again.

A—Local applications, such as you have been using, should be helpful but they will work only if you scrupulously avoid licking or biting your lips.

Q—What would cause a person to have too much saliva? I have to keep swallowing all the time.

A—There are several causes including (1) excessive smoking in a person who has just begun to smoke; (2) such drugs as calomel, iodides, bromides, arsenicals and potassium chlorate; (3) some types of anemia; (4) diseases of the mouth and gums and (5) indigestion. In some persons frequent swallowing is a nervous habit. Eliminating the cause will bring relief.

Q—I have Stevens-Johnson's disease in my mouth. Can it affect other parts of the body? Is there any treatment other than cortisone, which I can't take?

A—Stevens-Johnson syndrome, a severe form of erythema multiforme seen in children and young adults, is often associated with canker sores, dental infections, measles, pneumonia, pregnancy, allergy to foods and a reaction to various drugs. The chief symptoms, in addition to a variety of skin lesions, are fever, headache and ulcers of the mucous membranes in many parts of the body.

THE CHIEF RELIANCE in treatment is placed on stopping all drugs previously taken and giving drugs of the cortisone group. Antibiotics are sometimes given if an underlying infection is present.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Won't Quit Under Pressure, Home's Administrators Say

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "We have no intention of resigning under political pressure," Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers, administrators of the Lucas County Home, said Friday in reply to demands they quit their posts. Resignations of the superintendent and matron were demanded Friday by Sol Wittenberg, president of the Lucas County Commission. The demand followed an investigation by a citizen's committee which reportedly found unsatisfactory conditions and personnel problems in the home. "Mrs. Myers and myself have made every effort to improve conditions at the home," Myers said Friday. "But such progress is dependent upon funds from the county."

Grain-Burning Set In Protest Of Low Prices

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — Ed Brecount hopes to burn a million bushels of grain on his farm at midday today.

All day Friday trucks lumbered across his fields, two miles east of St. Paris, south of U.S. 36, bringing loads of grain from 50 Ohio counties. Some came from points 140 miles away.

The proposed fire is the latest in a series of moves by farmers across the country to draw attention to what John Hamilton of Leesburg, Highland County, called "farming's biggest depression." Hamilton is chairman of District 7 of the National Farmers Organization.

He said Friday that 12 farmers in his own community had left the land this year because they couldn't make a living. Brecount agreed with him. "If my wife didn't work in the shop I wouldn't be farming," he said.

Brecount came back with some figures: "Twenty years ago a bushel of corn would bring $3; five years ago it would bring $1.75. Now the market price is $1. The cost of machinery and labor has doubled or tripled in that period. 'We're tired of giving grain away for nothing,' he said.

ROYAL ROAR is emitted by 8-year-old Prince Buckingham Palace. The prince was participating in the "Grand Howl," used to start Cub Scout meetings.

He said they would fight any attempt by the county commission to oust them from their posts. Trouble has been brewing at the home since last July 11 when more than 100 members of the staff staged a mass walkout as a protest against management and home conditions. Most returned to their jobs the next day, but their action brought formation of the citizen committee. Among problems at the home cited by the committee were lack of diet advice or adequate control of special diets, insufficient nursing supplies, chronic shortage of clean garments and uncertain food quality. Wittenberg demanded the resignations by Monday, and said if they are not submitted he would move to have the couple fired.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt
Mouth Ailments Can Be Cured

Q—What causes cracks at the corners of the mouth? Can they be cured?
A—Common causes include a deficiency of riboflavin or niacin and various infections, especially with a fungus called Candida albicans.

For the former, vitamin B complex is a specific cure and, for the latter, a lotion containing amphotericin B, a prescription drug, should do the trick.

Q—What would cause excessive dryness in my mouth? I drink plenty of fluids during the day and do not sleep with my mouth open.
A—Belladonna, rauwolfia serpentina and their derivatives may cause dry mouth. Other causes in addition to the two mentioned are lack of moisture in the indoor air (especially in the bedroom), excessive smoking in one who has been a heavy smoker for many years, a deficiency of vitamin A or B and chronic rhinitis. Removing the cause is the only way to get lasting relief but, while you are waiting, you may get some relief by chewing gum around in your mouth.

Q—What is the best remedy for dry lips? I have tried several preparations but they only make my lips greasy and within 10 minutes they are dry again.
A—Local applications, such as you have been using, should be helpful but they will work only if you scrupulously avoid licking or biting your lips.

Q—What would cause a person to have too much saliva? I have to keep swallowing all the time.
A—There are several causes including (1) excessive smoking in a person who has just begun to smoke; (2) such drugs as calomel, iodides, bromides, arsenicals and potassium chlorate; (3) some types of anemia; (4) diseases of the mouth and gums and (5) indigestion. In some persons frequent swallowing is a nervous habit. Eliminating the cause will bring relief.

Q—I have Stevens-Johnson's disease in my mouth. Can it affect other parts of the body? Is there any treatment other than cortisone, which I can't take?
A—Stevens-Johnson syndrome, a severe form of erythema multiforme seen in children and young adults, is often associated with canker sores, dental infections, measles, pneumonia, pregnancy, allergy to foods and a reaction to various drugs. The chief symptoms, in addition to a variety of skin lesions, are fever, headache and ulcers of the mucous membranes in many parts of the body.

THE CHIEF RELIANCE in treatment is placed on stopping all drugs previously taken and giving drugs of the cortisone group. Antibiotics are sometimes given if an underlying infection is present.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Won't Quit Under Pressure, Home's Administrators Say

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "We have no intention of resigning under political pressure," Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers, administrators of the Lucas County Home, said Friday in reply to demands they quit their posts. Resignations of the superintendent and matron were demanded Friday by Sol Wittenberg, president of the Lucas County Commission.

The demand followed an investigation by a citizen's committee which reportedly found unsatisfactory conditions and personnel problems in the home. "Mrs. Myers and myself have made every effort to improve conditions at the home," Myers said Friday. "But such progress is dependent upon funds from the county."

He said they would fight any attempt by the county commission to oust them from their posts. Trouble has been brewing at the home since last July 11 when more than 100 members of a protest staged a mass walkout as a protest against management and home conditions. Most returned to their jobs the next day, but their action brought formation of the citizen committee.

Among problems at the home cited by the committee were lack of diet advice or adequate control of special diets, insufficient nursing supplies, chronic shortage of clean garments and uncertain food quality. Wittenberg demanded the resignations by Monday, and said if they are not submitted he would move to have the couple fired.

Junior Editors Quiz on RECORDINGS

QUESTION: How does sound go into and come out of a record?

ANSWER: Sounds travel as vibrations in the air. We symbolize them as lines (2) being pushed away from the mouth of a singer (1). As these travel into a microphone (3), they are converted into electrical signals which can move along a wire. An amplifying tube (4) makes these signals stronger. They move to a small magnet which sets a cutting needle vibrating (5). As a wax disk revolves, the needle cuts grooves into it. The various back-and-forth or up-and-down vibrations which the needle makes are registered. A metal form is then made from the wax disk, and from this thousands of duplicates can be pressed. These are the records you buy. When you start playing one of these records, the needle of your machine (6) vibrates in exactly the way the cutting needle vibrated in (5). These pulsations are turned into electric signals, amplified, (7), and made to vibrate a loud speaker (8). Sound waves resulting from this (9) reach your ears and duplicate the singer's voice.

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders met with party officials of five other East European Communist nations today to work out a formal truce between Prague and the Soviet-led orthodox Communists.

The final language of the agreement was expected to include a Soviet promise not to interfere with Czechoslovakia's liberalization drive in exchange for Czechoslovak pledges to remain firmly in the Communist camp.

A mood of optimism swept the country following statements by Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek that the liberalization drive would continue.

As the meeting ended, the months-long flow of propaganda against Czechoslovakia's liberalization course from Moscow and other hard-line Communist countries stopped and Prague's new media halted their counterfire.
